

Senate Bill Would Empower Hoover To Pardon 4 In Honolulu

SURVEY VOTED IN HAWAII BY HOUSE GROUP

Favors "Thorough and Complete Survey of Government" in Territory

Washington—(P)—The House territorial committee today unanimously voted in favor of "a thorough and complete survey of the government of Hawaii" and instructed its chairman, Representative Williams (D., Texas) to introduce a resolution for that purpose.

Washington—(P)—A bill to give President Hoover power to pardon the four defendants in the Hawaiian murder case was introduced today by Senator Logan (D., Ky.).

Logan said he doubted whether the president now has the power to pardon the four Americans convicted of manslaughter for killing a native Hawaiian. He said it was "important" that the bill be passed immediately because some of the suggestions which have been offered for obtaining clemency for the four Americans would establish a bad precedent.

Senator Borah (R., Idaho) joined in the discussion, asking Senator McKellar (D., Tenn.) to what committee the latter's bill for a congressional pardon for the four had been referred.

On McKellar's reply it was the judiciary committee, of which Borah is a member, the Idahoan said "good," and sat down.

Senator Lewis (D., Ill.) told the senate that President Wilson had commuted the sentence of a slayer in Alaska from hanging to life imprisonment.

This step was taken, Lewis said, after legal interpretations from government attorneys.

Senator Ashurst (D., Ariz.) said it would be a mistake for congress to attempt to grant a pardon.

"The pardoning power rests with the governor and the president," Ashurst said. "Even the remotest chance that congress has the power to grant a pardon to anybody."

Meanwhile, Representative Celler (D., N. Y.) said in a statement he would vote against the senate bill to prevent another jury disagreement from freeing the four men charged with attacking Mrs. Thalia Massie in Honolulu.

He contended the bill is unconstitutional because it alters the rights of the defendants, who existed at the time of the alleged attack on Mrs. Massie.

CARLTON COON TAKEN BY DEATH

Blood Poisoning, Result of Abscessed Jaw, Fatal to Orchestra Chief

Chicago—(P)—Death came today to Carlton Coon, 38, and ended a 15-year partnership with Joe Sanders in the famous Coon-Sanders orchestra—a partnership born of a music store meeting of two World War soldiers and never broken in a rapid climb to national radio and vaudeville fame.

Coon died this morning in Henry hospital of blood poisoning caused by an abscess in the jaw which developed mysteriously last month while he was directing the orchestra jointly with Sanders in a "loopy" hotel. His admirers will be given an opportunity to view his body as it lies in state in the loop tomorrow before being moved to Kansas City for burial there Friday.

Meanwhile, in keeping with all traditions of the show world, his friend and associate, Sanders, announced the orchestra would continue with its engagement here under the name of Coon-Sanders.

"Coonie would want it that way," he said.

In December, 1918, after the armistice was signed, two soldiers home on Christmas furlough visited a Kansas City music store, Capt. Carlton Coon of the commissary department of Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, tinkled away at the piano and sang and Line Sergeant Joe Sanders from Camp Bowie, Fort Worth, Texas, joined him. They had never met before. A lasting friendship was born.

After their discharge, they met in Kansas City and struck a partnership in a small pick-up band that played at clubs and private parties. Came radio and with Station WDAF of the Kansas City Star. The Coon-Sanders band became the Kansas City Night Hawks and soon the nation listened to their sprightly jazz melodies and dancing feet shuffled to their music.

There was the first radio club in history and when chain broadcasts began, the Night Hawks played their first chain program over the NBC network from Chicago in 1929. Vaudeville tours and summer bookings took them as far as New York's Radio and their popularity never suffered to the time of Coon's death.

MCKINLEY SCHOOL LEADS IN BANKING

School banking reports for the past few weeks show that 65 per cent of Appleton students save their money. With McKinley junior high school still leading the list, the public schools show a total of $797.23 for the week ending April 12 and $519.52 for the week ending April 19. Other schools which have a large student banking percentage include Lincoln, Orthopedic, and Columbus schools.

SHOOTS TWIG FROM TREE TO LIBERATE ENTANGLED ROBIN

Burlington—(P)—A robin today owed its freedom to the expert marksmanship of Raymond Heck.

The bird became entangled Monday in a piece of kite string atop a tall elm tree in the yard of Ernest Fritz. The bird's struggles to free itself were unavailing. Heck took his rifle and shot off the twig on which the string was caught and the bird was freed.

DELAY PRISON TERMS PENDING COURT BATTLE

Massie and Three Others Won't Serve Until Fight Is Concluded

Honolulu—(P)—Definite assurances that Lieut. Thomas H. Massie and three others convicted with him of manslaughter will not go to prison as long as their fight against conviction is in progress, were forthcoming today.

Both prosecution and defense counsel said the four would probably remain in custody of the navy at Pearl Harbor and it was authoritatively understood Judge Charles S. Davis would commit them to the custody of naval officers when they appear before him for sentences Friday.

Meanwhile, pressure was brought upon Gov. Lawrence M. Judd by officials of Washington and civilian circles to pardon the quartet convicted of lynching Joseph Kahahawai, who allegedly had confessed a criminal attack on the wife of the naval officer.

Assistant Defense Attorney George S. Leasure said he would ask the court to leave the defendants at Pearl Harbor.

Public Prosecutor John C. Kelley told the Associated Press he had no objection to such action.

This would mean they would remain at Pearl Harbor, where they are now, throughout the appeal expected to be pressed by Clarence Darrow, chief of defense counsel, and until the case is finally disposed of.

Petition in Congress

A petition is being circulated in congress asking Governor Judd to pardon the defendants and he is about to receive a similar appeal from the citizens of the territory.

The Citizens' Organization for Good Government, a body composed mostly of women, announced a mass meeting would be held today to circulate petitions asking that the defendants be freed.

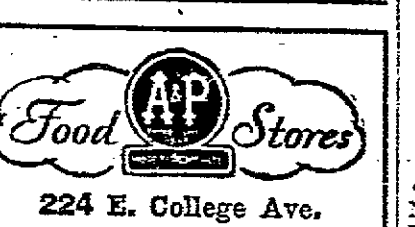

The governor talked to Secretary Wilbur by radio-telephone but refused to give any intimation of the subject of their conversation. He also received a cablegram from Territorial Delegate Victor S. K. Houston, and likewise refused to disclose its contents.

The defendants besides Massie are his mother-in-law, Mrs. Granville Fortescue; E. J. Lord and Albert O. Jones, navy enlisted men.

Although the penalty for manslaughter is from one to 10 years of imprisonment, the law makes it mandatory for the judge to pass the maximum sentence. The real sentence is fixed later by the prison board.

PLANT TREES AT FOUR PLACES ON THURSDAY

Four tree planting demonstrations are scheduled for Thursday by Gus Sell, county agent. The plantings on Thursday will be the last of a series which started Friday, April 23. A total of 5,000 trees will have been planted when the work is completed. The schedule for Thursday follows: 11 a. m., Methodist parsonage, town of Oneida; 1 o'clock, Silver Summit rural school, town of Oneida; 2:30, Phil Engel's farm, town of Seymour; and 4 o'clock, Guardian Angel's school, town of Oneida.

SPEAKER GIVES INTIMATE VIEW OF WASHINGTON

University Professor Tells of First President's Character

Rubbing off much of the mythical gilt under which early biographers have buried the real Washington, Prof. Carl Russell Fish of the University of Wisconsin Tuesday noon painted a picture of the nation's first president that probably made Parson Weems turn over in his grave. Prof. Fish gave his address at a joint meeting of the Appleton service clubs, Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Optimists, the Chamber of Commerce, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Grand Army of the Republic, Women's Relief Corps, and the Outagamie County Pioneer association at the Conroy hotel. The meeting was the program for civic day of this week of celebration.

With each sentence, Washington became more and more a human being. He hated badbugs, he worried constantly, he swore with gusto, and he was an accomplished "joinder." And while the old cherry-tree fable may be a rhapsody, nevertheless, not telling a lie was an aim of Washington's—he wanted never to fall below his own or any man's standard, in anything.

He had a stovish mind, but an inquisitive one, and while he did not think clearly, there was great continuity to his thought. He had a great ability to correlate past experience and knowledge and apply it to the question at hand. He read slowly, but always read the best and the latest book on the subject, and when he finished it he was its master.

Two Ambitions

Washington had two set ambitions, one to live well and the other to stand out among men. He was not interested in gathering about himself a fortune, but he wanted to be able to live well, and this he accomplished quite early in life. Prof. Fish exploded the theory that in marrying Martha Curtis, Washington married money.

He spoke of his youthful vanity, how he liked to ride out in conspicuous clothes with liveried attendants, and of his violent and distinctly bad temper which often found expression in strange Anglo-Saxon language. In later life his vanity became less personal, and his temper changed more to righteous indignation. The speaker referred to the tongue-lashing Washington gave Lee in a "telling" how some of Lee's descendants have not yet forgiven Washington, remarking, "An oath that reverberates for 150 years is some oath."

Washington grew by successive failures, he said, mentioning his inability to get a British commission, his failures in land ventures, in love, and in military engagements. Most all of the girls he ever wanted to wed married someone else, and one of them married his best friend. His marriage to Martha was not a particularly romantic venture, although after they were married they came to love each other devotedly.

Great Magnetism

Although Washington was rather dull in company he had a great magnetism, and the capacity to influence men. He used good judgment and particularly remarkable was his sound estimate of men. He frequently became attracted to a man by observing some well-done piece of work, and from then on he gave him every chance to rise. He did that with Nathaniel Green, with Alexander Hamilton, and with six of his aides during the Revolution.

When the Revolution was over, Washington had accomplished every ambition he ever had had, and he was content to resign. Prof. Fish said, He was urged to come back and help build the constitution, and from then on, with great capacity for public service, he devoted himself to the nation so completely that he wore himself out, so much so that during the last few years of his life, when he had everything a man could desire, he could not be happy.

In closing the speaker tried to explain how futile it is to compare Washington and Lincoln.

"Lincoln," he said, "is like Gandhi. There will never be another like him."

Farmers Of Eight States Plan Economic Program

Des Moines, Iowa—(P)—What is the way out of the present tangle of agricultural stress and economic recession?

The question motivated three meetings here—a mass meeting of farmers from eight states, and two gatherings of members of the Iowa Farm Real Estate association.

Many solutions were proposed by many speakers. Of the suggested remedies, three were outstanding:

1—A farmer's buying and selling holiday, to begin July 4 and to last, tentatively, 30 days, so as to "place agriculture on a cost-of-production basis" if this movement can be accomplished in no other way.

2—An agriculture "truly self-reliant," which will "fight its own battles" through "intelligent coordination of leadership and following."

3—An international conference to work out a plan for an international exchange of goods.

The first plan was adopted by about 2,000 farm men and women coming here from Iowa, Minnesota, Oklahoma, Missouri, Nebraska, Illinois, Wisconsin and Montana, at the behest of "farm holiday" leaders.

The second suggestion is the one S. F. Westbrook, vice president of the Aetna Life Insurance company, of Hartford, Conn., proposed at a meeting last night of members of the Iowa Farm Real Estate association.

James C. Stone, chairman of the Federal Farm board, proposed the third, in outlining the purposes and achievements of the board at the same meeting.

Those attending the mass meeting formed an organization to be known as the Farmers' Holiday association. After hearing speeches by John A. Simpson, national president of the Farmers' Union; Glenn Miller, president of the Iowa Farmers' Union; J. C. Lewis, president of the Iowa Federation of Labor; Milo Reno, Farmers' Union leader, and others, all of whom agreed that organization is immediately needed for agriculture's welfare.

Stone defended the Agricultural Marketing act and the farm board saying "I'm proud of what the board has done." He said his aim was to "bring it about that the farmer can intelligently ask a fair price for his products, based on the law of supply and demand."

The resolutions committee of the farmers holiday group directed at him so it is safe to love him. Washington, on the other hand, is like the good boy next door who is set up as an example. Because we don't like moral superiority, perhaps we can't love him, but at least let's admire him."

A group of Lawrence college girls participating in the water festival Wednesday and Thursday gave a wooden soldier dance. The meeting was attended by 235.

MRS. HOOVER TO BE GIVEN DEGREE

Wooster College to Bestow Honor on Nation's First Lady

Wooster, Ohio—(P)—After May 14 Mrs. Herbert Hoover may sign her name, "Lou Henry Hoover, L.H.D."

The honorary degree of "litterarum humaniorum doctor," or doctor of letters of humanities, is to be conferred by Wooster college upon the nation's first lady as the city of Wooster celebrates its 125th anniversary.

Mrs. Hoover's great-grandfather, William Henry, came to Wooster as a pioneer. The first four streets were named for the founders, and one of those thoroughfares is Henry street.

Mrs. Hoover never lived in Wooster, as her father moved to Waterloo, Ia., in 1872, but she has visited the city twice in recent years tracing facts concerning her ancestors.

Pageantry will play an important part in the formalities. Mrs. Hoover herself will review the annual color day parade at Wooster college, sharing honors with Miss Elma Sage of Marion, O., queen of the May.

In a bower-like setting of ivy-clad walls and tree-screened campus this pageant on the 100th anniversary of the birth of Goethe will seek to portray the famous German's theory of the art of poetry.

In the historical pageant by the city in the afternoon, at which Mrs. Hoover will be a guest of honor, there will be an episode depicting the coming to Wooster of William Henry.

Another episode will depict the founding of Wooster college. A cast of nearly 1,000 persons is being assembled for the event.

RABBI FREE ON BOND

Chicago Sighs In Relief As Capone Leaves For Jail

BY OWEN L. SCOTT

Copyright, 1932, by Cons. Press Chicago—(CPA)—A sigh of relief has gone up from this community with the knowledge that Alphonse Capone, hoodlum king, has stepped from the local scene into at least eight years of the oblivion effectively provided by a federal prison.

Chicago expects that this riddance, after 12 years of tolerance, will mean the beginning of the end to a world reputation for lawlessness, largely provided by the minions of the gang czar. With Capone's name off the front pages of newspapers, one symbol of the crime era will be destroyed.

But it has taken the highest court of the land to get "Scarface Al" safely behind prison bars. Local courts have yet to show ability to deal with a group of characters whose careers have scattered the pages of recent Chicago history with the blood of over 300 slain.

Unless pardoned by a president, Capone, with good behavior allowance, cannot leave prison for more than eight years. At that time he may find the scene of his former activities completely altered. The tremendous bootleg business on which he thrived and grew to power, might then be effectively curbed.

As it is, the hoodlum leaves behind a mere shadow of his former organization. His closest associates are in prison or convicted and facing a cell.

Nihil Is Back

Frank Nitti, formerly chief justice of the court system in Capone's underworld empire, is back after serving 18 months at Leavenworth. He is expected to assume titular control of the remnants of Capone power, but federal officials are eyeing him closely and any misstep might prove costly. In charge of the administrative departments of the organization now are Murray Llewellyn Humphries, good-looking but tough acting.

Fraternal Groups Take Charge Of Jubilee Celebration Thursday

GRAND EXALTED RULER OF ELKS TO BE SPEAKER

Parades Will Be Staged on College-ave in Morning and Evening

Appleton fraternal organizations tomorrow will take over the program of the joint celebration of the city's diamond jubilee and the Washington bicentennial. One of the outstanding features of the day's festivities which is expected to bring scores of visitors from throughout the state and country will be the appearance here of John R. Coen, Sterling, Colo., grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. Another feature which is expected to bring out large crowds of people will be the fraternal day parade on College-ave tomorrow evening.

The day's festivities will get under way at 9:30 Thursday morning when Appleton Elks' "Little German Band" parades up and down College-ave playing musical selections in various shopping centers. This part of the program will continue until 11 o'clock at which time Mr. Coen will arrive here from Watertown accompanied by a delegation of Appleton Elks, who are going to the latter city to meet him.

Band to March

He will be met at the corner of W. College-ave and Memorial-dr. by a delegation of Elks and the 120th Field Artillery band, and will be escorted to the Conway hotel where

AGED MEMBERS OF SOCIETY TO RIDE IN JUBILEE PARADE

The original banner of St. Joseph society purchased when the organization was formed in 1888 and carried at all functions will be one of the features of the fraternal parade Thursday evening.

Another feature will be 12 aged members of St. Joseph society who will ride in the parade. Their combined ages is 958 years, their average age about 80 years, and nearly all have been members for 50 years or more.

They are: Charles Reicher, 211 S. Walnut-st, 84; Andrew Doerfer, 515 N. Richmond-st, 84; Martin Weyenberg, 532 N. Appleton-st, 83; Michael Bauer, 1400 W. Prospect-ave, 83; Michael Alberly, 401 S. Franklin-st, 77; John Hackl, 1423 W. Prospect-ave, 73; Joseph Bayer, 820 W. First-st, 73.

Another veteran member of the society is Matt Rosemeier, 517 W. Eighth-st, 83, who has been in the society 60 years. He will be unable to take part in the parade.

Appleton fraternal lodge groups will join in honoring him at dinner. Mayor John Goodland, Jr., will act as toastmaster at this dinner and there will be a program of "short talks."

Speakers scheduled to appear on this program are Mr. Coen; Mrs. Irene Crockett, Menasha, state regent of Catholic Daughters of America; Dr. William Doyle, Fond du Lac, state president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles; Mrs. Clara Hoyt, Antigo, supreme regent, Royal Neighbors of America; John A. Kuypers, De Pere, state chief ranger, Catholic Order of Foresters; Charles Broughton, Sheboygan, past president, Wisconsin Elks; E. A. Huebner, Bear Creek, past master, Modern Woodmen of America; Mrs. Clara Miller, Appleton, Women's Relief Corps; and G. A. Ziegler, Appleton, president of the Aid Association for Lutherans.

A program of music is being prepared by Dr. Earl L. Baker of Lawrence Conservatory of Music. Music will be heard before dinner by St. Mary's Cathedral choir. Thanks will be given after dinner by the Rev. F. C. Reuter, pastor of First English Lutheran church.

Arrangements for this part of the program are being made by a committee composed of the following: Charles Rumpf, chairman, George W. Wettengel, Louis J. Marshall, George Bush and Sarto S. Balist.

Mass Meeting

An immense mass meeting for the public is scheduled for 2:30 tomorrow afternoon at Lawrence Memorial chapel with Mr. Coen as the principal speaker. A musical program composed of organ and vocal selections will follow the principal address. Other speakers will be Gustave Keltner, Alfred S. Bradford, The Invocation will be given by the Rev. Lyle Douglas, pastor of the Rev. St. Paul's Episcopal church, and the Rev. H. E. Peabody, pastor of the First Congregational church.

Mr. Coen will be the honored guest at another dinner at 6 o'clock Thursday evening at the Elks club. This meeting will be for Elks only, and lodge members from all sections of the state are expected to attend.

Illuminated Parade

A colorful illuminated fraternal day parade will be staged on College-ave following the Elks dinner. There are to be 20 floats, five bands and about 2,500 marchers in this parade which will start from the corner of College-ave and Durkee-st, marching west to Memorial-dr. At this corner the marchers will make a turn and counter-march east on College-ave to Memorial chapel. College-ave is to be closed to traffic during the parade and parking will not be allowed along the line of march. Members of Company D, 127 Infantry, Wisconsin National Guards will

FISHERMAN'S STORY WINS DISMISSAL OF DRUNKENNESS COUNT

Fond du Lac (AP)—"It was like this, Judge," said a Fond du Lac man who faced Judge H. M. Fellenz on a charge of intoxication. "I was fishing and a big fellow must have taken the hook because the cork began going round and round. I watched it so long I got dizzy and I was still dizzy when I started walking home. And that's why I staggered."

The court dismissed the action.

GET ONE YEAR FOR FORGING CHECKS

Two Langlade-co Boys Are Sentenced to State Reformatory

Lee Deaton and James Roberts, Bryant, Langlade-co, were sentenced to one year in Green Bay reformatory yesterday for forging checks. Deaton was sentenced to 11 months and Roberts to 10 months. They were caught when they pleaded guilty to forgery. The boys are 19 years old.

Deaton was arrested Tuesday at Antigo by Sergeant Detective John Duval and Officer Albert Delgen, Roberts on April 30 at Green Bay by Sergeant Detective Matthew McGinnis. They were sought with a third person for passing two forged checks on the First National bank. The names signed on the checks were Mrs. Mason. Different initials being used in each case. The checks were cashed at J. C. Penney company and Wolf Shoe company.

When arraigned in court the boys waived hearings, admitted their guilt and were sentenced. Deaton wrote the checks, Roberts endorsed them and a third person is believed to have cashed them. The checks totaled $24.

CHIPPEWA-CO AGENT TO TAKE U. S. JOB

Chippewa Falls (AP)—Manley Sharp, agricultural agent of Chippewa Falls, has offered his resignation to the Chippewa-co board to enter the employ of the federal government. In the recent referendum voters of the county chose to discontinue the office of county agent in 1932. Indications are that no successor will be appointed.

No Special Preparations at Federal Penitentiary to Receive Him

far as the outside world is concerned. The prison does not give information of its individual inmates.

Warden Aderhold answered pre-arrival queries about Capone with his formula reply: "I am not allowed to give out information about individual prisoners. If the department of justice in Washington cares to give out that information, you can obtain it there."

Double Prison Gate

The prison routine, where prisoners arrive by train, is to receive them on a special spur that runs into the prison walls through a double gate like a canal lock. A gate opens and closes to admit the prisoner to an enclosure, then another opens to admit him to the prison yard. The car goes out the same way.

There will be no official comment and the only alike are submitted to a routine of finger-printing and photographing. Physical and mental examinations and observation follows. Then the routine of the big house swallows up the individual. He becomes a part of the laundry crew, one of the tailors, a bookkeeper or whatever is decided for him.

It was reported Capone's job would be something at which he could be kept under close guard—the laundry or tailor shop, perhaps.

The Atlanta prison was built at the beginning of the century to accommodate 1,000 prisoners and a wing added later. Its population now is given at something more than 3,600.

Three-fourths of a mile of walls enclose 275 acres of the main prison unit. The walls range from 23 to 37 feet in height. There is a main building and numerous subsidiaries, including the hospital, industrial plants and the like.

There has never been a major disturbance within the Atlanta federal prison. Prohibition offenders have made up the majority of the population.

On Board Capone Train, at Danville, Ill., en route to Atlanta—(AP)—

Al Capone, disillusioned and rejected gang chief, approached federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., today with the assertion he was "through with the racket."

"Tonight he will start serving an 11-year sentence for evading income taxes and Capone, giving up hope at last, said there was "nothing to do but make the best of it."

As his train cut down toward the southland, the gangster jested and kept up a rapid fire conversation with guards, but did not try to hide his disappointment.

"If you would feel if you have 11 years staring you in the face," he parried when newspapermen questioned him.

Although his long exile has been expected to rob him of his rule over Chicago's underworld, it was still Capone the boss of gangland that was being taken to prison.

At every stop from Chicago to Atlanta railroad detectives to watch the train from the outside while nine guards kept vigil inside his car. United States Marshal H. C. W. Laubheimer took charge of the party with the assertion his main object in life right now was to get Capone off his hands.

It was not a special car bearing Capone to prison but it amounted almost to that since it was occupied only by Capone and other prisoners, the guards and newspapermen.

Minimum Over 1 Year.

With time over for good behavior Capone can cut down his sentence to about seven and one-half years. When he gets out, he said, he intends to "stay out of politics and all the other rackets." If he had any plans for the future he failed to reveal them.

A few minutes later, however, he indicated he had not lost all interest in the liquor-gambling syndicate that is reported to have built him a fortune.

"Anybody that says I'm for prohibition is all wet," asserted the gang czar. "It would be better if prohibition was out of the way and we could handle beer legitimately. There could be more profit, no payoffs, no loss of trucks and a cheaper price for the stuff."

Capone's trip to prison was a rush affair, starting only a day after the United States Supreme court had refused to review his case. The original papers called for incarceration at Leavenworth, Kas., but the plans were changed late yesterday in accordance with the government's policy of splitting up the Capone gang.

Four Chicago gangsters are already in Leavenworth prison while Capone is the first to be sent to Atlanta.

MADISON MAN NAMED SEED LOAN COLLECTOR

J. P. Riordan, Madison, has been appointed chief seed loan inspector for Wisconsin according to word received by Gus Sell, county agent from the regional headquarters at Minneapolis. Kas. Riordan, Eau Claire banker and Paul Thacker, former county agent of Trempealeau-co, were appointed district supervisors. The staff is to be increased as necessity requires. It is the duty of these men to look after the collection of loans from the Minnesota office.

So far there has been 5,000 applications for loans from Wisconsin with Clark-co leading the list with over 600. Outagamie-co had about 150 applications.

VALLEY EMBALMERS TO MEET IN CITY

Expert to Demonstrate Embalming Technique and Restorative Art

Prof. Ray E. Slocum, field demonstrator for the research laboratory of the Dodge Chemical company of Boston, Mass., will demonstrate embalming technique and restorative art at the meeting of Fox River Valley Funeral Directors and Embalmers' association Thursday afternoon in Appleton. The demonstration will take place from 1 to 5 o'clock.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 at Conway hotel, and talks will be given by Prof. Slocum, Coed Lee Sage, Superior, president of the Wisconsin Funeral Directors' association; James Crossin, Kenosha, secretary of the state association; T. L. Pendergast, Milwaukee, field educator for the state; J. R. McLean, Marinette, of the state board of examiners for the association; and Frank Candlish, Fond du Lac, immediate past president of the state association. A mixed quartet from the Lawrence Conservatory of Music, will sing, and pupils of the Vesper Chamberlain dancing school will appear.

George E. Johnson, president of the Fox River Valley association, will be toastmaster. Harry Schommer is treasurer and George Buesing a member of the board of directors of the Valley group.

The ninth graders led the honor roll with 41 members. These include the following students: Mary Louise Bara, Mary Bateson, Mildred Bieritz, Mildred Blinder, Reva Cohen, Mary Lou Fannon, John Frank, Elmore Gearson, Walter Grimmer, Lucille Heins, Margaret Hughes, Peggy Jennings, Harold Krueger, Verna Le Plante, Robert McNeish, Bonnie Morris, Ada Mueller, Olive Meltz, Rachel Owen, Helen Pierre, Margaret Reffke, Hilda Reffke, Nadine Rytow, Rosemary Ritter, Kenneth Sager, Viola Salm, Geraldine Schmidt, Thomas Sell, Dorothy Shove, Anthony Vandenberg, Olive Vandewale, Bernadette Verrier, Mary Voecks, Mary Wallace, Robert Wilson, Annabelle Wolf, Barbara Wirtzen, Lucille Yandre and Margaret Zschaechner.

RECEIVE COPIES OF MEMORIAL DAY ANNUAL

Copies of the Wisconsin Memorial day annual for 1932 have been received at the office of A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools. The copies are to be distributed in the rural schools of the county. The pamphlet contains patriotic stories, poems and sketches to aid teachers in planning and presenting Memorial day programs. Much of the pamphlet is devoted to the life of George Washington because of the celebration of the bicentennial of his birth this year. In the foreword to the teachers of Wisconsin, John N. Callahan, state superintendent of schools, says:

"I hope that your exercises and your studies will emphasize the absolute necessity of this time for a rearrangement of our thinking so that our country may lead the world to permanent peace. Washington was 'first in war' when war became a necessity, but he was also 'first in peace' and so was 'first in the hearts of his countrymen.'"

WON'T HOLD SCHOOL CLASS DAY PAGEANT

The usual class day pageant at Appleton high school will not be held this year because of the student interest in the Washington bicentennial program.

An awards day will be held, however, June 1, open only to students. Outstanding awards such as the Craftsmanship shield, given to the outstanding senior, the American Legion award in athletics, the A. A. U. W. scholarship to an outstanding senior girl, will be presented on that day.

School will close at noon on June 1 and the annual senior banquet will be held at 6 o'clock following the afternoon of awards and distribution of Citations, high school year book.

AUTHORIZE REPAIRS ON SHIOCTON BRIDGE

The county highway committee has received word from the state highway department authorizing repairs to the Shiocton bridge across the Wolf river on Highway 78 at Shiocton. The cost of the work, which will include new flooring for the bridge, is estimated by the state at $400.

HOLD TWO MEN AFTER CRASH ON LAKE ROAD

Charge Car Which Was Smashed Had Been Stolen at Oshkosh

Police today are continuing their investigation of an automobile accident on Lake-rd, last night, about a half mile north of Waverly beach, in which an automobile said to have been stolen from Edwin M. Marheine, Oshkosh, was badly wrecked. The car bore license plates registered to Marheine, and so on, a car owned by Howard W. Lochlin, 632 Second-st, Menasha.

Henry Van Ryzin and Raymond Kant were taken into custody this morning in connection with the accident and the alleged thefts. Van Ryzin was taken to the city jail and Kant was left at the home of Lee D. Hinks, 230 E. Atlantic-st, where he was found, until he recovers sufficiently from injuries said to have been suffered in the accident.

Oshkosh and Menasha police officers arrived in Appleton this afternoon to question Van Ryzin and Kant in connection with the theft of the automobile and the license plates. Bloodstained clothing, an empty holster and several cartridges were found in a clump of bushes near the scene of the accident, leading police to believe that occupants of the car changed their routes after the crash. Two leather coats and two letters which were seen with the pile of clothing by nearby farmers this morning are missing. According to one farmer, a truck drove within a block or two of the scene of the accident early this morning before officers arrived, and the driver picked up the letters from the pile and disappeared.

According to Henry Rosenow, route 1, Menasha, who took Van Ryzin and Kant to the Hinks residence at 1:30 this morning, the two men refused to be taken to St. Elizabeth hospital.

Questioned by Detective John Duval this morning at the Hinks home, Kant said he picked up two Milwaukee men at Menasha last night and brought them to Appleton. He said the two men, named him, asked to be taken to the city jail.

The stolen automobile was going south on the Lake-rd when it left the highway on the left side of the road and rolled over several times, stopping on its right side against a tree about a 100 feet from the road. Kant suffered cuts on his forehead and right leg, a bruised chest, and possible internal injuries.

8 STUDENTS HAVE PERFECT RECORDS

Robert McNeish and Anthony Vandenberg Get Positions of Honor

Eight Roosevelt junior high school students on the fifth six weeks honor roll numbering 78 students have perfect records. Five are eighth graders, Henry Johnson, Joan Morton, Betty and Mary White and Florence Zuelke; three ninth graders, Reva Cohen, Robert McNeish and Anthony Vandenberg.

Both Robert McNeish and Anthony Vandenberg were flag raisers for the six weeks period, an honor given to two outstanding students.

The ninth graders led the honor roll with 41 members. These include the following students: Mary Louise Bara, Mary Bateson, Mildred Bieritz, Mildred Blinder, Reva Cohen, Mary Lou Fannon, John Frank, Elmore Gearson, Walter Grimmer, Lucille Heins, Margaret Hughes, Peggy Jennings, Harold Krueger, Verna Le Plante, Robert McNeish, Bonnie Morris, Ada Mueller, Olive Meltz, Rachel Owen, Helen Pierre, Margaret Reffke, Hilda Reffke, Nadine Rytow, Rosemary Ritter, Kenneth Sager, Viola Salm, Geraldine Schmidt, Thomas Sell, Dorothy Shove, Anthony Vandenberg, Olive Vandewale, Bernadette Verrier, Mary Voecks, Mary Wallace, Robert Wilson, Annabelle Wolf, Barbara Wirtzen, Lucille Yandre and Margaret Zschaechner.

PROBABLE SHOWERS PREDICTED THURSDAY

Probable showers tonight or Thursday with another drop in temperature is the weatherman's forecast for Appleton and vicinity. Rain turning to snow will fall in the northern portions of the state tonight, and the mercury will be near the freezing point, he says.

Winds are still shifting in the north and northeast, a good indication that wet, cold weather is on the way. At 6 o'clock Wednesday morning the mercury registered 41 degrees above zero, and at noon it registered 49 degrees above.

Banker Dies

Above is John J. Madler, president of the State Bank at Hilbert, who died at his home in Hilbert about 10:30 last night following a heart attack. Mr. Madler has been prominent in the political and civic life of Hilbert for many years.

he was elected president of the bank. So valuable were his services considered to the bank that the board of directors took out a $25,000 insurance policy in the event of his death, shortly after he became president of the institution.

Mr. Madler was a member of the fourth degree of the Knights of Columbus, a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters and the Hilbert Lions club.

Survivors include: the widow, Margaret; three sons, Roy E. and Oliver J. Hilbert, Anthony A. Appleton, and a stepson, Elmer Muecherheide, Milwaukee; one daughter, Marian, Hilbert; three brothers, P. H. Madler, Baltimore, Md., Dr. N. A. Madler, Greeley, Colo., J. C. Madler, Tigerton; seven sisters, Mrs. Charles Reinert, Detroit, Mich., Mrs. Susan Philippi, Shawano, Mrs. Peter N. Schreiner, New Holstein, Mrs. M. A. Schuch, Appleton, Mrs. H. C. Schwartz and Mrs. M. J. Towle, Chicago, and Mrs. Mary Reminger, Bay View; two aunts, Mrs. Mary Dietrich, Hilbert and Mrs. Anna Maurer, Appleton.

Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock Saturday morning with solemn high mass at St. Mary church at Hilbert with the Rev. Francis W. Geier in charge. Burial will be in St. Mary cemetery.

DEATHS

WILLIAM KERSTEN

William Kersten, 47, Wrightstown, died suddenly from apoplexy at the Thimney Pulp and Paper company mill at Kaukauna at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Kersten was just returning to the sulphite plant from lunch when he was stricken. Survivors are - his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Kersten, Wrightstown; three brothers, Al of Kaukauna, Otto and Herman of Wrightstown; three sisters, Mrs. Gus Erdman, South Lawrence; Mrs. Adolph Krueger, town of Rockland; and William Kamps, Wrightstown. The body was taken from the Reimer Undertaking parlors at Wrightstown to the home of his parents Wednesday noon. The funeral will be held at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the home, with services at St. John Lutheran church. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

FIVE TO TAKE PART IN SPEAKING CONTEST

Five students who will participate in the third annual Bolton-Roth extemporaneous contest Thursday afternoon at Appleton high school include Vernon Beckman, Chester Dorschner, Charles Herzog, Howard Rietz and Jacob Shieratz.

The contest scheduled for last week, will be held during assembly period in the high school auditorium. Contestants will obtain their subjects at noon tomorrow and have one hour to prepare their topics.

Earl Miller, member of the class of 1928, which is sponsoring the contest, will present the tribute to Ted Bolton and Carlton Roth, two outstanding high school students who lost their lives in Lake Winnebago. Herbert H. Helbo, principal, will preside at the meeting.

Judges for the contest include Rexford Mitchell of the speech department of Lawrence college, Heber Peik, Appleton lawyer, and Judge Fred V. Heismann.

The winner of this contest will represent Appleton high school at the Fox River Valley extemporaneous contest, Wednesday, May 11.

DENSTEDT TRIAL IS CONTINUED TO MAY 14

Trial of William Denstedt, 622 N. Union-st, charged with use of abusive language and disturbing the peace, set for this morning in municipal court before Judge Fred V. Heismann, county judge, was postponed to May 14 at request of Denstedt's counsel.

The chief witness against Denstedt is Walter Gmeiner, Third ward alderman, whom Denstedt is alleged to have called names during a political argument near the police station the night of April 19.

Less than two days remain before the final scores will be totaled. Balloting ends at noon Friday and on Saturday the winner will be crowned queen of the Diamond Jubilee celebration. Second and third place winners will get some money honor. Besides being crowned queen, the winner will receive a cash prize of $100, second place winner will be given $25, and third place winner honorable mention.

Ballots are being given in 79 Appleton stores for all purchases and for money paid on charge accounts and past due accounts. The expenditure of 50 cents brings 50 votes and a $1 purchase 100 votes and so on. Ballots are to be deposited in the two ballot boxes at the corners of College-ave and Walnut-st, and College-ave and Oneida-st.

It was suggested that marking paint and a carload of cement be bought and several streets were recommended for cilling.

AD CLUB, LEGION POST INCORPORATE

Wood Plug Company Amends Articles to Permit Five Directors

Articles of incorporation for two new organizations in the county and an amendment to articles of a third have been filed with A. G. Koch, register of deeds.

Articles of incorporation for the Advertising club, incorporated, signed by J. E. Whitman, A. J. Geniesse, and C. E. Waters have been filed. The organization has for its purpose developing Appleton as a merchandising center, carrying on educational work, safeguard advertising ethics, improve technical methods of advertising, act as a sales promotion department for the city of Appleton, gather and disseminate advertising knowledge, exchange experiences on advertising and selling, and prevent dishonest, unfair and fraudulent advertising.

The company will be a non-stock organization and there will be a $10 annual fee. The organization meeting will be held May 19.

The other articles of incorporation filed with the register are Kaukauna Post No. 41 of the American legion. The action followed a resolution suggesting incorporation, passed by the post in November, 1931. Dale Adams is post commander, A. J. Mangold, adjutant, and Henry Olm, finance officer.

Articles of incorporation of the Badger Wood Plug company, Appleton, have been amended to make the board of directors consist of five members instead of three. David S. Runnels, Appleton and Carl J. Voissem, Appleton, are president and secretary, respectively.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO CARRYING WEAPONS

Plas of not guilty to the charge of carrying dangerous weapons, were entered by Guy Iverson and Ed Iverson, brothers of Oneida, when arraigned before Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court, Wednesday morning. Bond was set at $50 each and furnished and the case was continued until May 11.

The complaint in the action is Hugh Burt, who charged the two men with making threats of force and violence while armed with rifles.

APPLETON LIBRARY PRAISED BY EXPERT

Miss Zana K. Miller, formerly of Appleton, well known organizer of libraries in the county, declared Appleton public library one of the most efficient but too small. Miss Miller, who is spending her vacation in the city, visited the high school library last week.

Miss Miller is known for her publication, "How to Organize a Library" which she wrote in collaboration with Miss Della G. Ortiz of Milwaukee State Teachers' college.

HORTONVILLE GROUP TO PLAN CO-OP LOCAL

Farmers of the vicinity of Hortonville will gather at the Firemen's hall there Friday evening to attend an organization meeting sponsored by the Wisconsin Cooperative Milk pool. Speakers at the meeting will be Walter M. Singler, county organizer, and H. E. Holmes, state organizer for the union. The county board recently appropriated $500 to aid in the organization work.

FUNDED DEBTS OF STEEL CORPORATION TOTAL $12,000,000

Current Assets on Dec. 31, 1931, Aggregated $430,651,600

BY GEORGE T. HUGHES
(Copyright, 1932, by Cons. Press)
New York—On December 31, 1931

The United States Steel Corporation had net current assets of $430,651,600. This is the amount that would be left after all current accounts had been paid marketable securities sold, bills and accounts receivable collected and inventories turned into cash. It is what the accountants call "working capital."

Now the Steel Corporation has roughly about $120,000,000 in funded debt of its subsidiaries and various other interest bearing and non interest bearing obligations. If we subtract that from the working capital we have $310,651,600 left. The part value of the preferred stock is about $300,000,000 so that the net current assets fall short of covering funded debt and preferred stock by about $10,651,600. There are various other liabilities given in the balance sheet which are more than offset by miscellaneous assets. The value of the plant, land, buildings, etc., after depreciation is given as $1,645,000,000 in round numbers. Subtracting this $50,000,000 deficiency there is left as equity for the common stocks almost $1,600,000,000.

There are outstanding 8,657,435 shares of common stock. The other day this stock sold at $30 a share or at a market valuation of $259,720,550 for the equity of the common. This is the price a buyer of Steel common at $30 a share pays for assets of over a billion and a half.

What are the risks that such a supposition buyer takes? First, that the plant is over valued in the balance sheet. To anyone acquainted with the bookkeeping methods of the Steel Corporation that is improbable, but even if there were some overvaluation there is plenty of margin left. Second, that the plant will never be of any value for use. That is absurd on the face of it. Even though the corporation were to discontinue steel production the property ought to have a junk value equivalent to the price of the common stock. Third, that operations will be continued indefinitely at a loss in which case the net current assets would gradually melt away. The reader can make up his own mind about that.

Finally there is a chance that our imaginary buyer might be able to acquire the property at a lower price than the one given, in which case he would be obtaining an even greater bargain. There is no way of being sure about that.

DAIRY FARMERS TO MEET AT HORTONVILLE

Hortonville dairy farmers will gather at the Fireman's hall at Hortonville at 8 o'clock Friday evening to discuss plans for organization of a local unit of the Wisconsin Cooperative Milk pool. Organizers for the pool are conducting a series of meetings throughout the county in an effort to secure members for organization. Recently the county board appropriated $500 to aid in the organization work. Speakers at the meeting Friday night will be Walter M. Singler, county organizer, and H. E. Holmes, state organizer for the group.

THE TOONERVILLE TROLLEY THAT MEETS ALL THE TRAINS

Fly-Casting For Bass Is Great Sport, Says Claflin

BY BERT CLAFLIN

When fly fishing is spoken of by many anglers, chiefly amateurs, immediately associate it with trout fishing. Yet, what I consider just about the last word in angling fun is the taking of small mouth bass, and large mouth too, for that matter, on flies, using a not too heavy split bamboo pole.

I have caught many of both species both on dry and wet flies. I will remember my last trip to the St. Croix river. We waded the stream exactly as though it were a trout stream. On either side old logs, rocks and other obstructions were present. We kept well in the middle of the river and shot our flies as near as possible to one of these sunken obstructions. I used with best success a No. 4 Yellow Sally and a Col. Fuller, the latter at times with a No. 1 spinner. That is, when I was fishing wet flies.

When using dry flies, and with these we had best success early in the morning and late evening. I used the cork-body floaters. Boy! When one of these three or four pound bronze-backs hit the fly it seemed as though the bottom of the river had come up and started trouble. However, in the St. Croix it is a case of being properly equipped as well as being somewhat used to the ways of a fly rod and its limitations.

The bass would at times take a shoot across the stream, sometimes up and sometimes down, trying at ways to get into some kind of a snag wherein he could get rid of the obnoxious thing that clung so tenaciously to his jaws. They are fighters, too, make no mistake about that. They seem much more agile than lake fish. Perhaps they require better training to catch their prey in fast water.

We caught a great many bass on that trip, but having use for only an occasional one for the pen, practically every one was tamed and then released to take a whack at some other lucky angler's Yellow Sally.

There has been considerable controversy over the fighting qualities of the small mouth and the large mouth, also over their edible qualities. My version of it is this: If both species are taken in fast water the small mouth has the edge; but, if caught in the still water of some lake there is little difference. I neglected to say that the bass of the St. Croix are all small mouth.

And you can catch Crappies, Bluegills and Rock Bass on flies, too. On a quiet warm evening you may expect best results. I call to mind one such evening last summer. I was on Mercer Lake. After supper I moved over to a bar and prepared to try for the Bluegills. I caught a fine string, and they were the largest I had ever taken. It was great

GRADS HAVE 3 TO 1 CHANCE TO GET JOB

Madison—University of Wisconsin seniors, facing graduation next month, will have a three to one chance against them of securing jobs, in the opinion of department heads.

It has been the custom of the university in the past to secure positions for graduating students who desire assistance. In other years many departments reported as many as five openings for each applicant. This June, department heads say, there will be three students for every job offered and that many of these will be of an undesirable character.

With school boards curtailing expenditures and cutting salaries of teachers already employed, R. A. Walker, assistant chairman of the university high school relations department, said "things are looking awfully gloomy."

Prof. J. H. Mathews, of the chemistry department, said that in normal years a candidate with a doctor's degree has four or five positions offered him on graduation. This year, however, he declared that only one third of the candidates may even get offers from employers.

Last year the engineering school, which boasts of an average of two offers of jobs for each graduate, placed but 40 per cent of its senior students. Prof. J. W. Watson of the department predicted that the percentage will be much smaller this year.

sport, using as I did, floater flies for them and a light rod of three and a half ounces.

CONGRESS BENDING IN THE MIDDLE

The economy program, so widely advertised, is crumbling in the hands of the House. Leaders make promises but the party whips haven't any stings in them.

Appropriation bills already in process of passage were to be pared about 600 millions. At first there was going to be a great scramble to see who would get the honor of paring them. There was the usual declaration, when the president asked further cuts in the budget, that his purpose was political but the attack was expected, as attacks must always be expected. No one could have anticipated, however, that further efforts to cut the budget would turn into such a fizzle. To date, on the matters already passed upon in the House, although this vote of course is not conclusive, with the chance of saving over 200 millions, less than 30 millions have been eliminated.

We get loud and prolonged lip service in the matter of economy but it is difficult to get congress to go to the extent which will really mean less taxes.

Do congressmen feel that the great wave of economy is beginning to encroach upon sacred prerogatives belonging to them? Do they sense the possibility that some of their own sinecures are in danger?

Each member of the senate is allowed, besides a salary of $10,000, mileage for traveling purposes and excursion junkets to the Philippines, Porto Rico, Panama Canal zone, etc., an additional $10,320 a year, to pay for hired assistants; whereas representatives are entitled to $5,000 per year for such additional purposes.

When we view the general way in which this money is used we see growing up at the national capitol a vast structure of nepotism, always more or less dishonest, invariably inefficient, a system that through the ages whenever it could get its clutching hand upon the throat of any government has choked it to its knees—the system of making soft jobs for relatives. Call it by a softer name if you please, it is graft. It is thinly veiled corruption.

Democrats assault Republicans, Progressives scowl at conservatives; they all assault Greed and lose their voice in the huskiness of tears at the great number of unemployed and the high rate of taxation, but we find them nearly all equally guilty when it comes to finding soft jobs for relatives, who do not need the money, and for whom they pick it out of the taxpayers' pockets who are, at least, entitled to it.

Let us look at a few flagrant examples:

Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, employs his aged mother-in-law at $2580 a year. She does no work, doesn't even go to Washington, but stays down in Arkansas and draws her pay. He also employs his brother-in-law who is a bank president in Little Rock, Arkansas, and seldom gets to Washington.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky has his son as clerk, and his young daughter who has just been introduced to society at a coming out party, as secretary, each at $1800 a year, which sort of helps keep the family together, and makes them all love the Union.

Senator Nye, progressive Republican of North Dakota, who has been strong in his denunciation of campaign expenditures, who shakes in anger at "the race for gold" has kept his brother-in-law on the payroll ever since he became a senator.

But the real prince of them all is Senator Brookhart of Iowa. He is Chief, High Mogul, Rajah of the Big Ruby, Master Drainer of the Treasury. He has a son as secretary and two daughters as clerks. He also has a son whom he has placed in the Department of Commerce, making a total of four in the Brookhart family, besides the pater, receiving constant checks from Uncle Sam. He not only uses $10,320 allowance for clerk hire for members of his own family but gets one son into another department where the checks are juicier.

There are good and valid reasons why the salary of congressmen should not be cut. There are equally strong reasons of public policy why members of congress should not appoint relatives to positions within their gift. There are likewise reasons of good taste why members of congress should not talk in pathetic tones about the unemployed while they might usefully fill a thousand positions from among clerks, stenographers and secretaries who are out of work and replace some of their relatives who are not entitled to the jobs and do nothing to earn their pay.

When congressmen begin to look at the public service from a little higher plane they will become more competent to deal with other matters of economy. Unhappily for the standard of the public service we must record that over half of the 535 members of the United States congress have secured positions for relatives of the same name, at Washington, and that a large share of these are fake appointments and a fraud upon the public.

NO OTHER VERDICT POSSIBLE

The reaction of the press to the verdict of the jury in the Massie case is a strange confusion of principle with a lack of understanding of our legal structure and the place a jury plays in the governmental purpose of enforcing laws.

The staid New York Herald-Tribune refers to the verdict as "extraordinary," returned without appreciation of "the cruel fate which has already enmeshed" the defendants, and characterizes the result as "sickening."

The Milwaukee Sentinel in an editorial headed "Degraded Hawaii Speaks" declares that the verdict is tantamount of a conclusion that "the most fiendish of all men, those who assault womanhood, those who destroy the purity and sanctity of the home, are to have control of our islands in the Pacific."

Juries do not always understand clearly their exact place in the administration of justice, which is merely to determine disputed facts, and sometimes confuse questions submitted to them, but no such strictures may be justly aimed at the jury at Honolulu. They understood their duty a great deal more plainly than those who are criticizing them.

The very newspapers that are particular supporters of a government based on duty and by orderly processes seem to be most unrestrained in condemning a jury which listened to its oath and followed it.

The same newspapers have spent many pages denouncing the lynching of blacks in the south and other manifestations of mob rule—yet they close their eyes tightly to the fact that Lieut. Massie's execution of the Hawaiian was in exactly the same class as the burning of a negro in Georgia for a similar offense.

We all assume the guilt of the Hawaiian. We say therefore that he deserves his fate. We have tried him upon the evidence printed in the papers. It did seem to be overwhelming. Yet in court he denied the offense.

Now the very simple fact is that he had a perfect right to his freedom unless convicted by a jury of his peers duly chosen, and not by 10,000 juries reading newspapers all over the world.

Moreover each of the jurors in the Massie case took an oath that he would decide the case on the evidence and under the instructions of the court, that is, the law of the land. The evidence in fact was undisputed. The alleged rapist was certainly killed. Since he wasn't killed accidentally or lawfully someone is guilty of a crime in causing his death.

In other words the jury had to find three of the defendants guilty or become themselves guilty of plain perjury in their utter disregard of their own oaths; and since, apparently, they did not take much stock in Lieut. Massie's claim that he, for a short time, became a maniac, they found it necessary to return a verdict of guilty against him.

Here was a jury that really arose to the height of performing a distasteful task in accordance with its duty, albeit probably against its wishes and its sympathies. It was properly told by the court to disregard sympathy. It obeyed the law. It returned a verdict in conformity to the evidence.

Were similar verdicts the common course of things people would find no necessity for taking the law into their own hands to satisfy personal grievances. They would know that when they furnished suitable evidence men would be convicted and punished according to their deserts.

POST-MORTEM

SO AL Capone is going to jail . . . down to dear old alma mater Atlanta where there are no silk lounging pajamas and no big black cigars . . . he's going—he won't even be allowed to buy his own passage . . . no private cars or drawing rooms . . . nerts . . . they ought to make him walk all the way . . .

And now comes the news from Prairie du Chien that there's an electric chair for sale in the unclaimed freight department of a railroad over there. Nobody knows how it got there and nobody can see any particular reason why an electric chair should be left in Wisconsin.

But it might be a handy thing to have around an office to offer as a seating-place for unwelcome visitors.

Tuesday morning, May the third, gloom, mist, grey skies that drizzle down a liquid story of woe and worry. The city shrouded in grey. A week of celebration? Pooh. A morning for mourning. Bills come slithering through the mails, coming to rest beside empty checkbooks. We have a very stiff neck, too.

Yeah, a stiff neck plus some trouble with a felt dingus which is placed on the seat of the office chair to absorb the shocks gathered from pounding the office typewriter. It seems that the other day we were having trouble keeping the dingus in place so we pounded four thumb tacks into it. Yesterday one of the tacks came loose from its moorings and did a back flip. Why it decided on the acrobatics just before we sat down, we dunno. But it was very hard on our dignity. Not to mention the stiff neck.

And please, don't anybody suggest the axe cure. We know that one.

It oughta be stopped. Yeah, how can a fellow get any work done? Uh huh, there was a picture of a movie star wearing a telephone bathing suit in one of the newspapers yesterday. Tsk, tsk, tsk.

Got a grasp on some votes for Tillie but be darned if we'll use 'em yet. We're gonna wait and launch a big last-minute offensive. Tillie would make a great queen. She thinks a May Pole is some kind of a foreigner.

HOME-MAKERS

A shelter for the children and a place for them to play.
A red geranium or two to keep the corners gay.
A little patch of grass to trim, a pair of maple trees,
A path that leads up to the door, and home is made of these.

Some windows for the sun to find, and curtains white and neat,
Good neighbors to the right and left and just across the street;
A kettle singing on the stove, a couch that's built for ease,
A dog that wags his tail at you and home is made of these.

The smell of cookies baking or of onions in the stew,
The youngsters racing in and out, as children have to do;
The footprints on the carpet left where every caller sees,
The simple prayers they say at night, and home is made of these.

High dreams of future greatness when the little ones are grown,
More thought about their welfare than is given to your own.
Long nights of anxious battling 'gainst the course of some disease,
Then times of song and laughter—every home is made of these.

Looking Backward
TEN YEARS AGO
Wednesday, May 3, 1922

The first heat prostration of the year was reported in Milwaukee the previous day with the thermometer registering 71 degrees.

A party of friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Blick at their new home, 964 Gilmore-st., at a house warming the previous Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas F. Geller who were married at Rice Lake the previous Saturday returned that morning from their honeymoon to Minneapolis, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Schmidt had gone to Chicago for several days' visit with friends.

Otto P. Schaefer was at Milwaukee that day attending a meeting of the board of directors of Wisconsin Retail Hardware Dealers' association.

The Rev. Aloysius Schueller, Gresham, was visiting his father, E. Schueller, 925 Lawrence-st.

Miss Helen Orstein, who was attending school in Chicago was spending a few days at the home of her parents, 532 North-st.

Miss Inola Maude Baker and John Richard Evans, both of Oshkosh, were married at noon that day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Priest, 1033 Second-st. The bride was a niece of A. W. Priest.

William Schneider returned the preceding evening from a three weeks' stay at Wausau where he had been installing electrical machinery and rewiring the H. E. McEachron flour mill.

The engagement of Miss Laurie Conkey, of Otis Orchard, Wash., son of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Conkey, Appleton, and Miss Ruth Blood, formerly of Appleton, then residing in the west, was announced at a dinner party recently in Otis Orchard.

Miss Margaret Hurley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hurley, Sherwood, and Matthew Noack, Cicero, were married that morning by the Rev. Father Fitzmaurice.

Officers of the Epworth League of the Methodist church who were elected the previous evening were Frank Schallert, president; Robert Filbey, first vice president; Miss Anna Howard, second vice president; Miss Helen Brayton, third vice president; Miss Hulda Reuss, fourth vice president; George Goodrick, secretary; Miss Hattie Bounds, treasurer, and Mrs. F. R. Schallert, pianist.

RUBBER SPONGE TREATMENT OF VARICOSE ULCER

Probably the best treatment for chronic ulcer on the leg from varicose veins is the obliteration of the varicose vein which supplies the ulcerated area. The presence of varicose ulcer or eczema is not a complication which contraindicates the injection treatment for the varicose veins. Nowadays all good physicians who have had adequate training either give the injection treatment for varicose veins or refer their patients to one who does. The treatment is given in the doctor's office and does not detain the patient from his or her regular occupation or activities. Various medicines are used for the injections, but probably the most satisfactory are solutions of common salt in water and dextrose (sugar) in water, or both together in one solution containing 50 per cent dextrose and 30 per cent salt in distilled water. As a rule there is a cramp in the leg immediately after each injection, lasting three or four minutes. Probably this helps to retain the solution where it is needed. Patients say they don't mind the cramp in view of the gratifying relief they get from an otherwise discouraging trouble. Before the technique of this chemical obliteration of varicose veins became widely known among physicians, many of them raised theoretical objections and even advised patients the method was no good or dangerous. Then some physicians attempted to give the treatment without troubling to receive proper clinical instruction, and their bungling amateurish attempts gave some bad results, which brought the method into ill repute in some quarters.

It is odd, but the modern diathermy method of extirpating tonsils has had to pass thru the same vicissitudes at the hands of the general profession.

The ambulant treatment of hernia is now undergoing the same harsh reception. But I believe it is destined to make the present standard radical operation for hernia an obsolete method.

Some victims of chronic varicose ulcer cannot or will not submit to obliteration of the veins. A valuable treatment in such cases is the rubber sponge treatment. This is briefly as follows:

1. Cleanse the ulcer and the skin around with benzine.
2. Paint the ulcer with a 10 per cent solution of silver nitrate.
3. Apply to ulcer some simple boric acid ointment.
4. Cover with several layers of surgeon's gauze, fluffed.
5. Cover this with four layers of sheet wadding.
6. Apply over this an ordinary rubber sponge, the firmest obtainable, of a size slightly larger than the raw surface.
7. Bandage all in place with a 3 inch gauze bandage.
8. Finally apply a 4 inch woven linen bandage from toes to just below the knee, firmly.
9. Renew dressing as often as discharge sells.

The more inflammation and ulceration the tighter this final bandage should be.

The more the patient walks with this dressing in place the better his leg will feel and the more readily the ulcer will heal. Get a new sponge as soon as the first loses its sponginess and packs. It is the walking that does the trick, for every step produces a squeeze on the sponge and drives the stagnant blood out of the ulcer area, letting fresh arterial blood enter to nourish and heal.

Blow the Nose Gently

Is it advisable to blow the nose by holding first one nostril closed with the finger, then the other? (S. H. J.)

Answer—Yes, provided you blow gently. Never blow the nose forcibly, whether you blow one side at a time or both together.

The Tynmites
By Hal Cochran

THE sky cop flew around a bit. He seemed afraid that he would hit a tree or two in landing. "Here's a safe spot," Scoury cried.

The sky cop answered, "Thank you son. I'll show you how neat landing's done." And then he floated down and landed right by Scoury's side.

"Ah, ha!" the old man cried, "I had a dandy trip, but I am glad that I am safely on the ground. My arms are all tired out."

"Just let me rest a little bit. I'll take a snooze and then feel fit. When I wake up I'll tell you what this visit's all about."

"All right," said Windy. "Rest at ease. We'll gather up a pile of leaves that you can drop right into. Then 'twill be just like a bed."

"We'll all be very quiet boys and try not to make one very noise. I'm sure you will feel better when your rest your weary head."

It wasn't very long until it seemed that everything was still. And then the Tynmites had to smile. "Twas queer they didn't roar."

The sky cop started snoring loud and that is what amused the crowd. But, in about a half an hour, he was awake once more.

Said he, "You lads were very kind to let me sleep. Now I must find that little plane I let you take. I'm due back in the sky."

"I hope you didn't wreck the thing. My arms get tired when in a wing." "Don't worry," shouted Scoury. "Your fine plane is right near by."

And then the whole bunch led him to his plane. The next thing that they knew, the sky cop said, "I'm leaving now, so I will say goodbye."

He jumped into the plane real quick and took off in a manner sick. The Tynmites all were waving as he sailed up toward the sky.

Many states are advocating that their officials take vacations without pay this year as an economy measure. Most of them would save more if they would pay the officials to take longer vacations.

New York city has one jobholder for every 19 families. Almost as many in the p.e. line as in the bread line.

Peace in China now seems assured. The only obstacles left to be overcome are the Japanese army and navy.

War may cost 70 per cent of the total sum spent by the national government, but that still leaves 30 per cent for the politicians.

Seen And Heard In New York
BY WILLIAM GAINES

New York—So many people of the theater and the book world share their time between the peaks and the dumps. They are alternately sitting on top of the world, cheering for the sunshine, or down in the depths, wading in tears.

It must be a contagious habit, for after you knock about town for awhile, you find yourself getting that way—unless you've got the will power to cling to your even path. Even those comic fellows of Broadway, Jolson, Fields, LaRue—practically all of them—give evidence of moods that run up and down like New York thermometers in the springtime.

They're a sensitive lot these players and writers; their emotions are set in a whirl by little things that people in other walks of life might pass over without a second thought. Perhaps it's because they're always keyed to such a high tension.

It must be better to be one way or the other all the time—either Pollyanna or pessimistic. For instance, you see such a man as Al Woods, always kidding life and the people who live it, including himself. Even wish fortune at a low ebb, you don't hear him snarling with ill-temper or growing lachrymose about his own affairs.

Or you see such fellows as Theodore Dreiser and Maxwell Bodenheim giving the impression of being always bathed in gloom.

You wonder if they experience sudden ecstasies and plunges into still deeper melancholy. Maybe they miss something really forth while if they don't.

After all, those "come backs" are grand. Gee, what a feeling!

Ticklish Trivia

Grazz Scott! What a name that is for a bridge expert. When his partner trumps his ace he doesn't have to say anything. He just passes his card across the table.

Scott is a St. Louis boy who made good in bridge by taking it up in his late 30's.

Buddy Rogers organized his first band at the age of 9. He enlisted neighborhood kids in his home town. O.K., I guess. Now the former idol of the movie-going flappers, headlining his own band at a big hotel here, says, "Am I happy? You tell 'em I am."

El Brendel, who was around town recently, ordinarily speaks without his Swedish dialect off the screen. But he told me he'd been assuming it professionally for so long that it occasionally creeps up on him before he realizes it. El was born in Philadelphia, and his parents were not Swedish.

Sam Shipman Legend

I bumped into Sam Shipman, the playwright, at a party the other night. He told me one of his favorite stories of Fate.

It seems that every time Mr. Shipman has been duly impressed with a play of his own writing, that play has been what he describes as an "awful flop" when it went into production.

But his plays he has not thought so well of—of you know, some writers think some of their stuff is better than the rest of it—generally turned out to be box-office hits.

One show, Mr. Shipman recalls, was so bad in his opinion, when he saw it out of town, that he asked his lawyer to try for an injunction to prevent its appearance on Broadway. The lawyer, probably advised that he was doing the playwright a favor, put off his action until the play hit New York.

"Then it was too late to do anything. And what do you think? Why, the darn thing ran a year!"

PRESENT INDIANA CONGRESS GROUP LEADING AT POLLS

Only One Incumbent Faces Defeat—Dryers Appear to Be Victors

Indianapolis—(AP)—Indiana's present contingent in the national house of representatives with a single exception, apparently survived the primary election yesterday and will contend for reelection next November.

The prohibition issue, which popped into the primary campaign soon after the recent vote in the house on the Beck-Linthicum resolution for resubmission failed to hurt any of the Indiana congressmen who voted against it. The wets, however, claimed first returns would show the nomination of several candidates sympathetic to a change in the liquor laws.

The one incumbent who faced defeat was Eugene B. Crowe, Democrat of Bedford. Redistricting of the state by the 1931 legislature threw Crowe into contest with a Democratic colleague, Harry C. Canfield of Evansville. Incomplete returns showed Canfield holding a slight edge over Crowe.

The voters balloted yesterday not only for congressional candidates but also for legislative and county candidates, delegates to the state conventions and precinct committeemen. This slowed the counting of ballots.

In most communities primary day was peaceful. The Calumet district, however, was an exception. In Lake County one man was killed and a dozen were arrested, some accused of voting illegally and others of participating in violence at the polls.

Wet Candidates Trail

Representative David Hogg of Port Wayne, and three others who voted against the Beck-Linthicum resolution—Fred S. Purnell of Attica, Ill.; William H. Larabee of New Palestine, and Louis Ludlow of Indianapolis—were well in the lead over opponents who espoused the wet cause.

Other congressmen who seemed likely to win out in contests for renomination included the Republican veterans, Will R. Wood of Lafayette, campaigning in the Second district; Glen Griswold, Democrat of Peru, Fifth district, and Courtland C. Gillen, Democrat of Greencastle, Sixth district.

The Third district was the only one in which there was no contest for either the Democratic or Republican nomination.

Congressman Samuel B. Pettengill of South Bend, Third district, was renominated without opposition. Former Congressman Andrew J. Hickley of Laporte, a Republican, also was unopposed and will make the race in November against Pettengill. Two other Democratic incumbents were unopposed. They were Representative Arthur H. Greenwood of Washington, and Representative John W. Boehne, Jr., of Evansville, representing the Seventh and Eighth districts, respectively.

5 RURAL SCHOOLS REPORT ATTENDANCE

Many Students Are Not Absent or Tardy in April

Five rural schools have reported to C. Manning county superintendent of schools the names of pupils who were neither absent nor tardy during April. Following are the reports:

Islandale school, town of Dale. Miss Mae Schroeder, teacher. Ferdinand Spiegelberg, Orvan Schroeder, Erwin Grosnick and Marion Markley.

Ebber school, route 1, Little Chute. Miss Mary Williamson, teacher. Agnes Van Handel, Ethel Hendricks, Edward Hendricks, Mathias Van Handel, Irene Van Handel, Ivo Lamers, Wilfred Van Handel, Richard Evers, Martin Ebber and Ursula Van Handel.

Blue Star school, town of Black Creek. Miss Linda Spaulde, teacher. Eunice Brownson, Betty and Marjorie Hein, Cecil Royce, Lucille and Erdine Steffen, Sylvia Kropp, Everett Schneider, James Sutcliffe, Frederick Blohm and Shirley Hein.

Valley View school, route 4, Appleton. Miss Della Burt, teacher. Doris Burg, Robert Techlin, Lois

STUDENTS CHECK NUMBER OF SENIOR SCHOOL GRADUATES

The oldest high school record found today in the student house canvass was that of a graduate of 1892. Senior sociology students in Werner Witte's class began their canvass this morning to obtain as complete records as possible of all Appleton high school graduates.

This morning record came from a man who had graduated from the old Ryan high school and all these records were destroyed in the high school fire in 1903. The purpose of the student canvass is to obtain the name, the address, year of graduation and present occupation of former students.

Besides having a complete student record the high school will be able to ascertain the number of graduates in Appleton today, check the unemployment of high school graduates and find out how many students pursued their studies further when they left high school. The canvass will be carried on throughout the week.

Your Birthday

BY MARY BLAKE
"TAURUS"

If May 5th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 a. m. to 11 a. m. from 2 p. m. to 3 p. m. and from 8:15 p. m. to 10 p. m. The danger periods are from 1 a. m. to 3:30 a. m. and from 6 p. m. to 7:40 p. m.

Astrological influences on May 5th will help to prepare the way for the reception of new ideas or the launching of new enterprises. Initiative and nerve will go a long way on this date for most battles will be won before they are begun. Hesitating lovers will find themselves engaged to the idol of their hearts.

Although not uncomfortably restless, children born on this May 5th will be full of chatter, movement and dancing. They will give out a great deal of love and friendliness, and will receive a great deal in return. They may want their jam before their bread and butter side of their character will always be in evidence.

You, if born on May 5th, and your immediate horoscopic predecessor are not peas out of the same pot. You are solid, matter-of-fact beings with a great sense of duty and a vacation. You are not too much the vegetable to experience emotions, but yours never exhaust you. You ask very little of life, but that little you intend to get. You do not believe much in chopping and changing, and the blue-prints of your life show few erasures and changes.

You are not a speed artist, but your lumbering gait gets you further and faster in the long run than many of your associates who travel on a higher gear. You have fewer and less severe breakdowns, and you have time to take everything in which is of interest or of use. You like to do things in your own way and your own time, and are unfriendly toward meddlers. You are unduly sensitive to criticism, which you take very much to heart.

If you are a woman, you frown on any taint of unconventionality, and are rather stilt in your social contacts. You can be very happy alone, and at times feel that you must escape from human contacts and demands. You will agree with Shakespeare that love pricks like a thorn.

Successful People Born on May 5th:

- 1—Christopher (Darlington) Morley, editor.
- 2—Empress Eugenie.
- 3—Margaret Josephine (Mrs. John N.) Blair, home economist.
- 4—John B. Stetson, merchant.
- 5—Hubert Howe Bancroft, historian.
- 6—Robert Bridges, physician and educator.

FORENSICS MEET WILL BE HELD AT MADISON FRIDAY

Announces Names of Entrants to Take Part in State Contest

Madison—(AP)—With the exception of the River Falls district, the Wisconsin High School Forensic association has announced the complete list of entrants who will compete here Friday for state honors as a result of forensic victories in their respective divisions.

The entrants with the high school and districts they represent follow:

STUDENTS START TICKET SALE FOR SENIOR CLASS PLAY

Three Teams Compete for First Honors in Sales Drive

Medieval castles and armored knights have taken the center in Appleton high school in the ticket sale contest which opens Thursday morning for the senior class play to be given Monday night at Lawrence Memorial chapel.

A huge gray castle, with lighted turret and old oaken massive door cover the south wall of the first floor hall opposite the main entrance. Above the ramparts, erected by W. H. Hart, Chubb, advertising manager, and his committee crew, rides a knight in silver, indicating the theme of the senior class play, "The King Rides By."

On the north side of the castle, above the door, three triangular flags are blowing gently, attached to the marker which indicates the winner of the ticket sale drive. Each flag carries the names of the three ticket sales committees and as the leading committee forces ahead up will go the flag toward the marker.

The yellow flag team include Miss Mary Jane Dehnbach, chairman, the Misses Carrie Ribbeck, Marjorie Jacobson, Mae Zurell and Philip Johnson. The second team with the green flag are Robert Rydell, chairman, John Gunther, William Heger, Robert Schneider, Simon Sumner, while the red flag team consists of Jacob Shilbert, chairman, Vernon Beckman, Robert Knickerbocker, Vern Frank and Robert Trenery.

Program Is Presented At Meeting

A program of vocal and instrumental solos, and readings was given at the meeting of the Music Circle of First Congregational church Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. F. Kitten, 101 E. Lawrence. Mrs. Annette Buchanan had charge of the program.

Musical quotations opened the program, after which Miss Irene Albrecht gave three voice numbers, "Thank God for a Garden" by Del Riego, "Spring Moods" by Robert Tale-Smith, and "Violets" by R. Huntington Woodman. Three musical readings, "Dreams in de Twilight" by Lytton Cox, "The Big Brown Bear" by Mary Zucco, and "When Old Aunt Liddy Sings" by Horace Clark, were given by Mrs. F. H. Richmond. "Prelude in C Minor" by Chopin was played by Miss Albrecht who gave "Sunbeams" by Lierance, and Mrs. Lacey Horton presented "Swallows" by Cowen and "May Magic" by Ann Stratton. Mrs. W. H. Kreiss was accompanist.

Mrs. Walter Hughes will be hostess to the circle at a 1 o'clock luncheon May 31 at her home, 117 E. Franklin-st. Mrs. Kitten will be chairman of the program.

Married Fifty Years

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Rechner, 403 W. Eighth-st., are observing their fifty-second wedding anniversary today. Sons and daughters of the couple gathered at the home Tuesday evening for an informal social, at which cards were played. Mrs. T. E. Coote, Davenport, Iowa, and Mrs. Mark Pfaller, Milwaukee, who are spending the week in Appleton, were among those present.

Band Music Puts Pep Into Child

BY ANGELO PATRI
We have a school band. It began with the school orchestra. That is a group of earnest musicians led by the master musician of the school. They play fine music with the understanding and devotion of musical artists. Woe to him by whom a discord is created. Weeks of apologetic care will scarcely make up.

One day three boys appeared in the office. "Please can we play in the orchestra? We asked the professor and he said 'No.'"

"Then I have little chance of saying yes," said L.

"Can't you make him?"

"No. Nobody can. He's the leader of the orchestra and what he says is the beginning and the end."

The three looked sad. I looked at them closely and wondered. They were not the sort of lads who played in the orchestra. Far from it. In the orchestra you wear a white blouse with a carefully knotted tie. Your shoes are shining and your hands are immaculate and your conduct marks are rarely lower than A. I knew at a glance that these chaps rated about a B in work and a scant B in conduct. The marks of their play were upon them, buttons were missing and ties were straggling. But they wanted to play in the band, and my heart went out to them.

"The orchestra isn't a band, you know. Not really. It's a music class." Their faces changed, just as I knew they would. "What was it you wanted to play?"

"We wanted to play the trumpet and a bass drum and a fife."

"I see. Well, I'll ask the professor and see what he says." I asked the professor and he roared a loud and emphatic "No" that you could recognize as a fixed determination to guard the orchestra at all costs.

I was wondering what to do about it when I spied a young teacher, a boy who started to teach and who seemed to like his job. "Do you know anything about music? Can you play a fife or beat a drum, or blow a trumpet?" He laughed. "I know enough for that, yes, why?"

I told him about the three wistful musicians. "They're not artists, please understand. What they want is to make a joyful and legitimate noise and have a chance to show off every once in a while. They need this. Think you could give them a lift?"

You should see that band. We wouldn't give it up for anything. They are the young rascals who give their teachers heartseals, Grammar lessons, tables, neatness, care, and quiet and obedient responses are not for them. But if they can play in the band, that's different.

You see a fellow can blow off a lot of energy on a trumpet. And a fife can use up a lot of wind and mischief. When it comes to banging a drum — well that is heaven itself. You should see them on gala days. The fives and drums and trumpets going full blast, the band marching proudly through the streets admired by all beholders. Once the shopkeepers, just for fun, throw them handfuls of nuts and sweets. They made a dash for them to the disgust of the leader and the teacher. A school band is one of the finest outlets, one of the best means of growth and discipline you can imagine. It costs far less than you would think. Help comes from all sorts of quarters. And it pays over and over again in good behavior and work.

Now and then one of them graduates to the orchestra, but that is a rare happening. They are childish musicians, just noise makers, growing up into self controlled people.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

COUPLE IS WED AT WAUKEGAN

Moose Of Valley To Meet Here

APPLETON Moose will be hosts to lodges of the Fox river valley at a second degree frolic on June 19, according to plans made at the meeting of the local lodge Tuesday night at Moose temple. Arrangements for the event are being handled by committees.

Supreme Auditor, J. Curtis, of Mooseheart, Ill., was present at the meeting. Balloting on candidates took place.

Moose members will meet not later than 7:15 Thursday evening at the hall and march to College-ave, between Park-ave and Drew-st., where the fraternal parade will form.

Catholic Knights of Wisconsin met Tuesday night at St. Joseph hall for regular business. Arrangements were made for taking part in the fraternal parade Thursday night.

Speaker For Meet Active In Chicago

MISS HELEN BENNETT, Chicago, one of the principal speakers on the program for the annual convention of the Wisconsin Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs which will be held in Appleton May 13 and 14, has gained success as vocational adviser, newspaper woman, and exposition manager, and is at present chairman of the magazine committee of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs.

A graduate of Wellesley college, Miss Bennett was the first director of the Chicago Collegiate Bureau of Occupation and during her period of service there wrote "Women and Work," a widely quoted vocational book. She was the originator and manager of the Women's World's Fair held in Chicago, and for several years gave women an opportunity to acquaint the public with their wide range of professional activities. She is now on the staff of A Century of Progress, the Chicago World's Fair of 1933. She has been active in politics in Illinois, and was one of the managers of Ruth Hanna McCormick's successful campaign for nomination as Republican candidate for the United States senate.

Miss Bennett has for four years been chairman of the magazine committee of the National Federation which supervises the publication of the "Independent Woman," a magazine for business and professional women.

The Outagamie-co Council of the American Legion Auxiliary will meet Thursday, May 12, at St. Joseph auditorium, Little Chute. Dinner will be served at 6:30 and a program will follow. Cards will be played. Reservations for the meeting are to be made with Mrs. H. V. Miller before Monday.

The Appleton Auxiliary has been invited to attend the fraternal dinner Thursday noon at Conway hotel, and will march in the fraternal parade Thursday evening. The members are to convene at 7:30 at the corner of College-ave and Union-st.

The Tourist club will close its program for the year with a 6:30 supper Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Joseph D. Steele, 308 N. Law-st. There will be no program. The club will resume its meetings in the fall.

THE STORY OF SUE

By Margery Hale

—A KING FOR SALLY—

It seemed to Sue that long minutes passed while she waited for Joe Raynor to answer her question concerning the handwriting. She couldn't focus her attention on the writing, though. That was the worst part of the waiting. She kept thinking of the man across from her. His voice, his smile, the way his eyes could laugh.

"We were discussing handwriting one night not so long ago," he said then. "Sally had been to a party where one stunt had been to take the name that you drew... somebody else's name in the room. It was... and write it as many freakish ways as you could. Someone who knows about such things says this reveals character. Sally was trying to find out my secret. Why?"

"Oh, nothing. I found some peculiar specimens of handwriting and one or two of them reminded me of your writing."

"How do you know how I write?" he asked amusedly.

"Haven't I seen your bold and dashing penmanship on more than one order for pills?" Ruth asked him. She didn't tell him that a letter or two which he had written to her ever so long ago, were safely put away. "I made a bet about the writing and I won."

"Don't mention it to Sally," she said. "She thinks I'm foolish enough as it is."

"I won't," he promised mechanically. Ruth knew that he was agreeing with Sally's opinion of her. She could see that his mind was on something else. That was why he had not been more curious. He opened the top drawer of his desk and pulled out a small gray box. A jeweler's box. Ruth's heart turned over. Slowly. Sighing. Things were so... final. So binding.

He was opening the box and handing it to her.

"What do you think of this ring?" he asked.

She glanced down at the single, flawless solitaire that sparkled in its white-gold setting. Not plaid. She noted that. But of course he couldn't afford plaid. "It's lovely," she said. "Sally will adore it."

"You're wrong there. Sally does not like it." His words were abrupt and curt.

"She doesn't like it?"

"She wanted something not so simple. I gathered. I chose the wrong setting. Oh, I know I was a fool not to have her pick it out in the first place. But I was being a sentimental egg. It seems that most of her friends are going in for a different design."

"Sally would probably prefer wearing this ring to any other just because you picked it out. But being Sally, she can't fall one step behind in the parade."

Even while she said comforting words "Ruth wondered why she kept defending Sally so vehemently. She certainly wasn't angelic in her own attitude toward her sister. Suddenly the knowledge came. If ever Joe Raynor and Sally broke their engagement, and Joe turned back to her, she wanted to know she had played fairly. That nothing she had done had made the other engagement end. That she herself had won the man she wanted. She was really being selfish, she told herself.

"The ring doesn't look half bad on Sally's hand," Joe was saying. "Slip it on your finger, Ruth."

WE WOMEN

By Virginia Vane

THE CHRONIC WEEK-END

Dear Virginia Vane: I have been reading your column for years but have not yet seen anything relating to my problem. It is the question of visiting relatives which worries me. My husband and I are poor and I have to work as he is not always employed. We have very little time to ourselves and value what we have. Yet my aunt comes to see us whenever she wants to, and spends a weekend about once every three weeks, also drops in for dinner, etc., when she feels like it. We have, of course to give her extra service when she is there which is hard on me since she does not help in any way, to say nothing of the expense for both of us. She has had much trouble with the rest of our family as she is selfish and disagreeable, and before my marriage, when I had not home for her to visit, she had nothing to do with me at all. Last time she came I dropped many hints and my husband was embarrassed saying that was not the right thing to do. I do not know how to get rid of her without hurting her feelings. What do you think?

MRS. A.

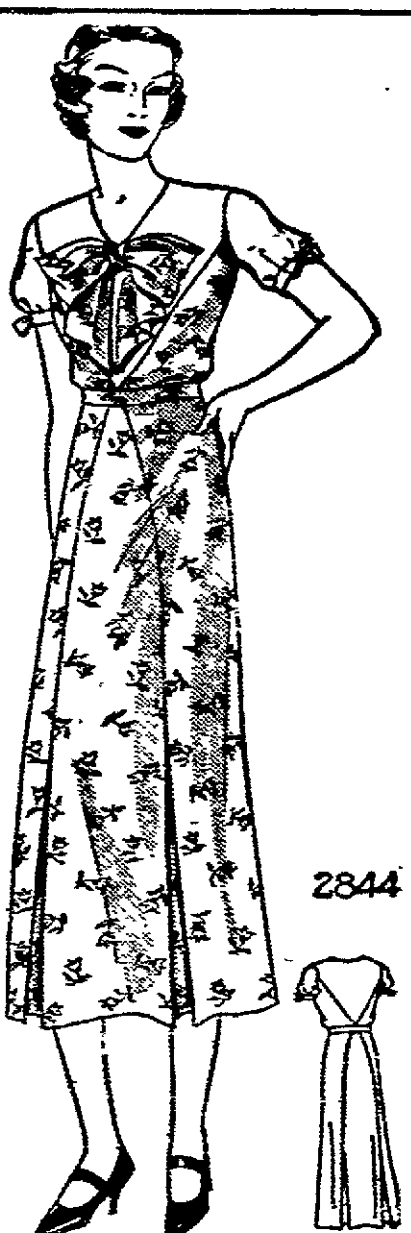

This particular sort of family pest needs to have its feelings hurt even though the job of disliking her concerning the warmth of her welcome may be a difficult one for the hostess. But you can harden your heart and so to it, since your relative relative has it, shown a particle of consideration for anyone but herself, and therefore deserves a shock.

Hints won't do any good. If she is thick-skinned enough to come often to see a young couple whom she knows to be poor—and to permit her hostess whom she knows to be hard-working—to wait on her and give her special service—then it will take more than tactful insinuations to rid yourselves of her.

There are a number of ways of getting rid of the perpetual weekenders who believe that their relatives exist merely to give shelter to them and their families.

One lady wrote to me some years ago to say that she had managed to scare off a horde of aunts, cousins

Paneled Skirt

A new and lovely model as simple as can be—and practical besides. It is especially nice in printed crepe silk, so smart at the moment. You will note the bodice may be made of contrasting material, the skirt is paneled in a new way, and there is a modish bow at the neckline.

You can make this smart dress at a very small expense in your favorite color. And you'll love it! Plain flax crepe, a crinkle crepe silk is also chic.

For summer wear, choose a sheer batiste or handkerchief linen print or tub silk.

Style No. 2844 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards of 39-inch material with 1 yard of 35-inch contrasting.

LIPSTICK LORE IS IMPORTANT THIS SEASON

BY ALICIA HART

There is an entirely new way of putting on your lipstick this spring. Don't just do your lips. Begin on the inside, not the out. Rouge your gums, too, if they look anemic. Not too much. They mustn't look bloody. But having the inside and the outside of your mouth match gives you a vital, vivid look of youth.

If your lips aren't a cupid's bow don't weep about it. Most of all don't try to make them one. Emphasize the upper lip. Some women even go so far as to use two shades of lipstick, the upper heavier. They must be the same kind of red, however.

If your mouth is wide, stop lip-smacking just before you get to the end. If your mouth droops as if you were too sad for words, reddening the upper lip almost to the end, shaping it upwards with a little flip at the end—not a flip you can see too easily. Rouge the lower lip only seven-eighths of the way across. This, you will find, changes the shape of your mouth substantially. If your upper lip is too heavy, be sure you work well within the defined edge. Keep the lipstick shallower than your lip. That helps, too.

There are several new lipsticks on the market. There is an automatic one, in any of the new shades, that is handy, to say the least. There is a new compact that has lipstick and loose powder—a neat contrivance. There are new evening sets in pastel colors that include an off-white set of compact and lipstick that is stunning. And, last but not least, there is a new line out that has a sleek, modernistic black container for its lipstick—as for all its products—that you can have monogrammed or initialed. A nice little vanity that most women will appreciate.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

by Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

THE OPENING FORCING BID

Inasmuch as the sixteen hands played around the world were selected to furnish entertainment and thrills and drama to thirty odd thousand participants in the World Bridge Olympic, the hands varied in texture considerably from those that would be secured by the average foursome sitting down at the Bridge table and bidding and playing their hands as they came. Thus, the number of Slam bids and unusual distributions was greater than would ordinarily be expected.

The Opening Forcing bid of two in a suit, the preliminary to an eventual Slam contract, was illustrated on Deal 7. The play of this hand illustrated the principle of the elimination of suits and the use of a card reserved for that purpose to throw the lead to a chosen opponent rather than take a finesse, which might lose.

The hand and bidding were:

East—Dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

North—Dealer.

East and West vulnerable.

FIRST WOMAN EDITOR

Salt Lake City, Utah—Said to be the first woman editor in the far west, Mrs. Lulu Green Richards recently celebrated her 53rd birthday here. She was made editor of the Women's Export, organ of the Latter Day Saints, in 1872 when her uncle, Brigham Young, organized the publication.

The manner in which East developed the hand was instructive. South opened the club King, which was won with Dummy's Ace, and a club immediately returned, which was ruffed in the closed hand. This was the first step in East's winning plan of campaign. The adverse trumps were drawn, this taking only one lead, as North and South each held singletons. The Ace and King of hearts were then led and the Dummy hand put in with a small trump in order to lead the last heart from that hand. Thus both East and West hands were stripped of hearts. This card was trumped by the Dealer and another spade led and overtaken in the Dummy, in order to lead the Ten of clubs, which had been saved for the purpose of placing South in the lead. The obvious play would be to trump this card, as it is a loser and East has lots of trumps. This, however, would be an unwise way to play the cards. East, instead of trumping, discarded the diamond deuce, which is an obvious loser. South, forced into the lead, was compelled to choose between the lead of another club, which could be trumped in the Dummy hand, and thus permit East to dis-

COUNCIL ORDERS 20,000 GALLONS OF OIL FOR ROADS

Contract to Furnish Supply Is Given to Standard Oil Company

Menasha—Action on bids involving three municipal projects was taken by the common council at a lengthy session Tuesday evening.

Following a recess in which the several proposals were considered, the Standard Oil company, quoting a price of three and one half cents per gallon, was awarded the contract to provide 20,000 gallons of oil for use on city streets; and the H. L. Plummer company, with a bid of $280.55, was given the contract to provide about 1,500 feet of sewer pipe for use on Appleton and Ninth streets.

Although five bids on the furnishing and planting of shrubs at the new Resthaven cemetery were received, two were immediately disqualified for failure to inclose certified checks for 3 per cent of the bids and the remaining three were rejected.

Two resolutions disapproving the common council's recent action in voting out three members of the school board, one passed at the organization meeting of the Third ward voters league, and the other at a Kiwanis club session last week were read to the aldermen, but no discussion of the matter followed.

A communication from Henry J. Lenz post of American Legion, based on findings in the 1929 community survey, also was presented. The recommendation, designed, it was pointed out, with the Legion's aim of community service in view, suggested consideration of a number of projects including the creation of a city planning commission, the purchase of voting machines, the organization of ward clubs, the creation of a city organization to coordinate industrial and business activities in Menasha, a contagious hospital, enforcement of the milk ordinance, vaccination for small pox and diphtheria, regular tests of water at bathing centers, and a number of additional projects. The list was referred to the committee of the whole for a report at an early meeting.

A number of street and sidewalk projects also received aldermanic attention Tuesday evening. Construction of a curb and gutter on Kaukauna-st., consideration of last fall was urged by Alderman George Sennsbrunner, who suggested that the project would provide a considerable amount of work for the unemployed. Mayor N. G. Remmel instructed the street committee, with the city engineer to determine the desired width of the street, the cost of additional materials needed, and the probable expense to owners of abutting property. Alderman Grode maintained that because the city at large used the street considerably during the winter, the city should bridge the city should be a larger percentage of the cost of improvement. No definite action was taken, however.

Receipt Petition.

A petition from property owners, urging oil treatment of Sixth-st. on the east side of Winnebago-st. and of First-st. between Green Bay and Konekum-st. was referred to the street committee, and a resolution providing for a concrete sidewalk on the east side of Winnebago-st. from Keyes-st. to Nicolet-st. was approved. A communication from Everett Phillips, 435 Ahnapp-st., complaining of damage to the terrace by sewer digging, of radio interference by transmission wires, and of the location of power company pole was read and referred to the city attorney and the two third ward aldermen.

Accept Deeds.

Deeds for property included in the site of the new Jefferson school in the Fifth ward were accepted.

The need for repairs on portions of DePeere-st. was pointed out by Alderman Knoelke, and Alderman Grode suggested that investigations of sidewalk and street conditions throughout the city be conducted by the several aldermen.

Complaints of parking congestion on a portion of Tayco-st. were revealed by Mayor Remmel who placed the matter in the hands of the police department. Following a suggestion by Alderman Knoelke, the mayor also emphasized the need of enforcing a city ordinance relative to peddlers' licenses.

The annual report of John Sennsbrunner, superintendent of poor, revealed a total expenditure of $18,098.33. The largest single item listed was $5,731.72 for groceries. The superintendent's report for April included a total expenditure of $2,107.69, of which $504.73 is chargeable to outside sources. A resolution authorizing the poor commissioner, with the city attorney, to remove a family included on the Menasha poor list to its legal residence in Dodgeville was adopted.

Public Hearing.

Announcement of a public hearing on proposed changes in the Wisconsin Michigan Power company bus schedule at Appleton Thursday morning was made and Alderman Brezinski urged all members of the council to attend the session. The new schedule would provide one hour rather than half hour service in Menasha during parts of the day, and should be opposed by the council, he stated. Alderman Grode suggested that the city attorney be given power to act.

Payment of about $900 to the Faithful insurance agency for city insurance was deferred until further

Donald Brown Is Chosen Valedictorian At Menasha

Menasha—Donald Brown daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orlis Brown, formerly of Menasha but now residents of DePeere has been chosen valedictorian of Menasha high school's 1932 graduating class on the basis of a scholastic average of 91.6 per cent during her four years of study. Alice Langer, granddaughter of Mrs. Catherine Johnston, Elm-st., has been chosen salutatorian with a scholastic average of 90.9.

Both girls have been outstanding students throughout their high school course. Donald Brown was coeditor of "The Nicolet" in her senior year, and a member of the staff during the three preceding years. She was co-manager of a magazine campaign, member of the Girls' Athletic association and vice president in her sophomore year, member of the high school band, assistant band librarian, senior class program committee, winner in solo and ensemble band work, member of the National Forensic league, member of the National Honor society and secretary in her senior year, class president in her sophomore year, a member of the Latin club and president in her Junior year, a member of the Cue club, and vice president in her Senior year, a delegate to the Madison convention for staffs of high school publications, and a member of the debate squad.

Alice Langer also was a member of the Nicolet staff, and was co-editor of the Nicolet News, high school paper, vice president of the Freshman class, secretary and treasurer of the Junior class, took a leading role in the senior class play, was a member of the Cue club and the Latin club and president of the latter in her senior year, a member of the Girls' Athletic association, a member of the National honor society, delegate to the Madison convention for publication staff members, and winner of a comptometer certificate. Both girls won scholastic medals. Alice Langer winning an English medal during her sophomore year and a chemistry medal in her Junior year, and Donald Brown winning the English medal in her Junior year.

George Van Himbergen, living with Mr. and Mrs. John Geisler, Ann Arbor, who has been a student at Menasha high school for only one year, received the highest senior average, a mark of 92.12.

PLAN OBSERVATION OF MOTHER'S DAY

Menasha—An elaborate Mothers' Day program for Sunday has been outlined by Catholic Daughters of America in Menasha. The program will include communion at St. Patrick's church at 7:30 Sunday morning followed by breakfast at Hotel Menasha. The Rev. John Edmund, pastor of St. Mary church will be the principal speaker at the breakfast meeting and members of the organization will attend with their mothers or daughters. Mrs. Frank Broeren is in charge of arrangements.

DEFER PRESENTATION OF BANNERS TO BAND

Menasha—Presentation of banners to the St. Mary high school band, provided by funds donated by Menasha merchants, was to have been made in the Brin theatre triangle Tuesday evening but was postponed when the band's parade through the business district was prevented by threatening weather. W. E. Held, former mayor, was to officiate at the presentation.

er consideration of the award is made, following a motion by Alderman Small. Later in the meeting a motion to secure the city's compensation through the Jourdan agency until final award is made, was approved.

The initiation of the Twin City Memorial Day committee to participate in the parade May 29 was accepted and appropriation of $100 to help defray the expense of the Memorial Day activities was passed.

BARBERS STILL IN DISAGREEMENT ON PRICE CUTS

Agree on Charges to Adults but Children's Prices Are Unsettled

Menasha—Following announcement of settlement of all differences in prices and hours among 15 Twin City barber shops, Tuesday morning further disagreement relative to reduced prices for children's haircuts developed at a meeting at Neenah Tuesday evening, and continued Wednesday morning.

In an announcement by barbers in Menasha Tuesday morning, it was stated that the 13 Neenah and Menasha shops had agreed to charge 40 cents for adult haircuts, 25 cents for shaves, and 25 cents for children's haircuts excepting Saturdays and days immediately preceding holidays. At the meeting in Neenah Tuesday evening however, Neenah Barbers maintained that the agreement made no provision for reduced prices on children's haircuts. The union in which Neenah barbers hold the majority of votes, sanctioned a straight 40 cent charge.

The four Menasha barbers originally included in the agreement, in a signed statement issued early today, agreed to the 25 cent haircut for youngsters, and to the 40 and 25 cent charges for haircuts and shaves. Although no further statement has been made at Neenah, it is expected that the Neenah shops will remain on the straight 40 cent scale.

HANSEN IS HEAD OF PARK COMMISSIONERS

Neenah—The park board of commissioners has made the following division of responsibilities among its membership: Riverside and Kimberly park, M. P. Hanson; Columbia and Shattuck parks, Dr. J. M. Donovan; Doty, Nicolet-bld parking and Water-st. area, C. C. Shepard; Fourth ward park and triangle, Charles Madison; High school field and location of St. Patrick's, this action was taken Tuesday evening at a meeting of the park board.

When construction on the high school athletic field is completed, the property will pass under the full jurisdiction of the school board and park board for summer use of the grounds by the public.

It is expected that work will begin shortly on the new Fourth ward park and that at least half of this area will be placed in use during 1933.

M. P. Hanson has been elected chairman of the park board and S. P. Shattuck, secretary.

RESTAURANT OWNER FACES NEW CHARGE

Menasha—Ray DeCoster, proprietor of the Coffee Shop restaurant on Main-st. appeared before Justice of the Peace J. Kolasinski Tuesday afternoon to face new charges based on an affair in the restaurant Sunday evening. Preliminary examination was set for May 10.

DeCoster was arrested by Menasha police Sunday evening when it was alleged he was intoxicated, brandishing a pistol, and shot through the roof of the restaurant kitchen. On Monday morning he paid a fine of $5 and costs for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, but in the new charge it is alleged he pointed and aimed a gun at one of his employees, police stated today.

PLAN TO DEDICATE BI-CENTENNIAL TREE

Menasha—A Koster blue spruce tree, recently planted at the city park, will be dedicated at the park by the Menasha Garden club, with ceremonies commemorating the bi-centennial anniversary of George Washington, at 6:30 Friday evening.

Mayor N. G. Remmel and members of the common council have accepted an invitation to attend.

Mrs. Ida Watkins, president of the Garden club will present the tree to the city park board and Miss Barbara Thom will speak on the bi-centennial observances. George Banta, Jr., chairman of the park board, will accept the tree on behalf of the board, it is planned. Program arrangements are to be completed by Mrs. H. E. Bullard.

INSPECT PIPE LINE AT SCHOOL BUILDING

Menasha—New valves, adaptable for use with city fire department equipment, will be installed in the pipe line to the second and third floors of the Menasha high school building as the result of an inspection by firemen Monday. # CHOOSE STUDENTS TO TAKE PART IN COUNTY CONTESTS

Arithmetic, Spelling and Achievement Tests to Be Held at Oshkosh

Neenah—Rural school children have been chosen to represent the various townships in Winnebago county in arithmetic, spelling and achievement contests to be held Saturday, May 21, at the training school of Oshkosh Teachers' college. Elimination contests were held in each of the townships to pick those who scored the highest mark in each of the three contests. Townships will have another representative besides the three winners. The pupil with the highest average in the town will also compete in the county event.

The county contest will be the final event of the year as there will not be a state contest this year in connection with the Wisconsin State Fair. Among the township winners in this vicinity are:

Town of Clayton—Three subjects, Roy Skatte, Larsen; spelling, Virginia Johnson, Lonely Oak; arithmetic, Lucille Bondow, Clayton Center; and achievement, Alan Anderson, Royer.

Town of Menasha—Three subjects, Lucille Smith, Happy Hours; arithmetic, Raymond Gray, Happy Hours; achievement, Melvin Lewis, Spring Road spelling, Betty Stroob, River Road.

Town of Neenah—Three subjects, James Nelson, Dixie; arithmetic, James Nelson, Dixie; spelling, Cella Jensen, Dixie; and achievement, Orville Schultz, Tullar. James Nelson won the arithmetic contest and had the highest average also, but will represent the town only in one event. Thorvald Jensen, Lake View, was second in arithmetic and will most likely be the town of Neenah's representative in that contest.

Town of Viland—Three subjects, Dolores VanDriest, Meers; spelling, Lucille Hanson, Gillingham; arithmetic, Ellen Nelson, Gillingham; and achievement, Mary Jane Overton, Skeleton Bridge.

Town of Winchester—Three subjects, Vivian Bockin, Grand View; spelling, Margaret Ford, Mathison; achievement, Lucille Annunson, Mathison; and arithmetic, Lyla Mathison, Grand View.

MARRIAGE LICENSES DECREASE IN APRIL

Neenah—Dan Cupid struck a bad month in April in Winnebago county, according to County Clerk George Manu, who reports that 25 couples applied for permits to wed during that time. In April, 1931, the total was 40, which was the peak for the month of April since 1927. There were 37 applications in 1930, and 33 each in April of 1929, 1928 and 1927.

Just an even 100 couples applied for marriage licenses at the county clerk's office during the first four months of the year. There were 29 in January, 23 in February, 25 in March, and 23 in April.

The total is one more than the first four months of 1931, when there were 99 applications, but it is lower than previous years. The totals for the first third of the year were: 1930, 108; 1929, 116; 1928, 105; and 1927, 130.

BANKERS WILL MEET MONDAY AT SHAWANO

Neenah—Group three of the Wisconsin Bankers association, will hold its meeting Monday, May 16, at Shawano, the program for which is now in the hands of the printer and will be mailed to the various members within the next few days from the office of Samuel Pickard, Neenah secretary. Members are asked to have their ladies accompany them as a special program, including a noon luncheon has been arranged for them.

ARRANGE PROGRAM FOR MOTHER'S DAY

Neenah—A special Mother's Day program has been arranged for the Sunday morning services at Immanuel Lutheran church in which the Sunday school children and all families in the parish will participate. The senior choir and men's chorus will furnish special music for the occasion and the pastor, the Rev. E. C. Kollath, will have a special message appropriate to the occasion.

JANDREY STORE STARTS 66TH YEAR

Original Company Founded at Neenah Shortly After Close of Civil War

Neenah—Wednesday, May 4, marks the beginning of the sixty-sixth continuous year in which the E. J. Jandrey dry goods company has been in business, the original company being founded soon after the close of the Civil war.

The company, one of the oldest mercantile establishments in the Fox River valley, was founded by William Kellett in 1866 in a building at the corner of Wisconsin-ave and Commercial-st, the site of the former Anspach department store. In 1872 Mr. Kellett sold his interests and opened a store in the basement of the Russell house, known as the William Kellett company. In 1877 the business was moved to the present location on W. Wisconsin-ave, the name being changed to the Jandrey company in 1909.

The year 1866 in which the company was founded, was a notable one for Neenah, as in this year the William Krueger Hardware company and the First National bank was organized, and the first paper mill was started and put in operation. This mill, the Neenah Paper mill, was sold in 1874 to the Kimberly-Clark company which has operated it since.

E. E. Jandrey, senior member of the firm, has been actively connected with the organization, first as an employee, then as sole owner, and then as a member of the firm which bears his name. He entered the employ of the Kellett company in 1877. In 1886 he became associated with Mr. Kellett as a partner and assumed the sole ownership in 1906. The present corporation was formed later.

M. W. Schalk, manager of the company, has been a member of the firm since 1919 and E. F. Meyer, assistant manager, has been a member since 1920. E. E. Jandrey, Jr., has been actively connected as a member of the firm since 1924.

GROUPS DISCUSS CITY PARK PLANS

Neenah—The city planning commission and board of park commissioners met Tuesday evening to discuss park prospects in which both commissions are interested. The board of public works held a meeting Tuesday evening to discuss proposed pavement improvements on Wisconsin-ave and Commercial-st. The board recently visited Watertown and Milwaukee to view several pieces of pavement which had been treated with a black surfacing which is proposed to be used on various streets here. Reports from both meetings will be submitted Wednesday evening to the May meeting of the city council.

VAGRANT JAILED

Neenah—Joseph Adams was sentenced to serve 30 days at Winnebago jail Wednesday morning after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy before Justice Chris Janssen. Adams was arrested Tuesday night in the Soo line railway yards where he was found lying in a badly intoxicated condition beside the tracks.

SYNOPSIS: Jenny Revell is moonlight and her cousin George is sunlight. Garth Aveney says when he meets them at a dinner given by Ryder Vale, Jenny likes Aveney, but he seems very much attracted by George. When George is hastily called away, to do special night work for her employer, Matching, Jenny hopes that Aveney will be more interested in her. She will prove to him that moonlight isn't cold, as he has said. She is willing to try to divert him from George, although George is taking care of her, because she knows that her cousin is secretly in love with Eddie Townsend. George will be fired if she marries, and she is trying to weigh marriage to Eddie against her job. She hurries to go to Rochester Gate, Matching's home, planning to join the party, later on. Jenny waits for Aveney to return from getting George's taxi.

Chapter 4
SNARES
GARTH AVENEY had returned and was standing by Ryder's chair.
"If you don't mind, Vale, I suggest I push along and get my car out. I've arranged to wait outside the Rochester Gate house for Miss Revell and drive her to the Crescendo or back to her own place, according to her wishes."
Ryder's inevitable grin appeared. "By all means, sound idea, what? With any luck we'll all foregather at the Crescendo about the witching hour or earlier. Meantime, Miss Cinderella and I will eat your share of the ice. Won't we?"
"Yes," said Jenny, faintly, watching the tall, slim figure make a rapid id way into the vestibule. He had not stayed even to bid her au revoir.
Ryder Vale also watched him go. "Can't help thinking I ought to be able to place that chap," he remarked when he had returned his attention to Jenny. "Can't help thinking someone told me he was related to old Gratton Matching. But I suppose in that case George would have known him. . . . And now here's our ice."
In the huge bedroom that ran the whole width of the house, old Gratton Matching sat and reduced to a nervous pulp his general manager, Harold H. Croze.
It was the old man's habit to retire to bed at about seven o'clock in the evening; and it was from the middle of his antique four-poster, the size of a small tent, that he was now launching his venom. Extraordinarily like a slate-pencil, he looked, or so thought the harassed Harold H.; he stared at the narrow rigid form in its gray woollen bed-jacket, the narrow gray wedge of face surmounting it and the very white wig that, tapering almost to a point on top, betrayed the strange formation of the hidden skull. And like a slate-pencil the voice-grating, squeaking slipping on the slate of the mind.
You suspect a leakage of information concerning the work of the overseas department, do you?" When the Old Man was particularly infuriated his voice climbed to falsetto. "That's very interesting—oh, very interesting indeed. Of course it is only a suspicion and it has arisen in your mind quite three months after it arose in mine. But still it

"I must differ there, Mr. Matching. I've done all I can. Enough to convince me that whoever the culprit is, he or she is not in the overseas department. Take the Mexican estimates, it's evident they were known to the Fortenz firm before the department worked on them. The original draft—" "Do you suspect any of my secretaries, Croze?"
The general manager passed a handkerchief over his brow. He was a stout, pink man, mentally far more agile and experienced than he looked. But the Old Man's tirades always undermined his nervous control until he felt lower than the least paid office-boy. Besides, the room—an extraordinary room in which to conduct business—was very hot and full of furniture. A set of the furniture was in shadow. But by the side of the bed was a structure like a dinner wagon, the top desk holding a dictaphone recording machine, telephones, bell-pushes, two small and exquisite model dynamos and a standard lamp. Through the lower deck ran the tangled connecting wires of all this paraphernalia and round the wires were littered twelve to fifteen penny bags of sweets.
"Do you, for instance, suspect Revell?" Matching demanded.
"I've always had the greatest possible admiration for—Miss Revell," muttered Croze. He had never spoken with greater sincerity—heavens, that girl had some character, putting up at close range and year after year with this kind of thing. "All the same, everyone who was in a position to give away or sell those Mexican figures should come equally under consideration. Miss Revell, I presume, took them from your dictation?"
"Very logical. Quite scientific." The gray figure suddenly giggled, slumped and lay flat on the vast bed. "But you'll excuse me, Croze, if I don't follow you link by link. Because they all occurred to me, as I say, quite three months ago and I acted on them promptly. Very promptly. I set a series of tests—snares—what you like. One is being sprung tonight. . . . There's really nothing more to discuss. Do you know my nephew?"
Croze gaped. What had a nephew got to do with—

Croze gaped. What had a nephew got to do with—
"No. Nor has anyone else in the firm. Very useful. Good night." "Do you mean, Mr. Matching—" "Good-night," came a final squeak from the bed. Harold H. Croze was dismissed.
George leaned out of the window of the street and quietly reminded the driver of the quickest way to Rochester Gate.
Eddie Townsend She brooded over him and the problem that she was to her smiling. It was a smile in which two Georgias Revells met and merged. The glowing, vital prodigal George, who could never snatch life enough, met Miss Revell of Matchings, that essential cog in a vast and powerful wheel.
She shut her eyes as the taxi sped along under the ebb and flow of the street-lamps and she remembered that she and Eddie were married and yet that she still kept her job, her difficult, hard-held wonderful job.
The taxi was stopping and before it was quite stationary she was out and running up the steps of the enormous ugly house in which old Gratton Matching lived. She rang in a code of her own and at once the door was opened.

George is offered an ultimatum tomorrow—Eddie or her job?
LIVE HORSE POWER FOR CAR
Horsepower is horse power to a farmer of Leppworth, England, for he has figured it out that the cheapest way to run his automobile is to have it pulled by one of his farm horses. He goes to market every day with dobbie pulling the machine, the traces of the harness being fastened to the springs. He always carries two spare tires, and as he drives he has to have an assistant handle the wheel. His speed is slower, but gasoline is high in England, he argues, and what is time to a horse.

Rain Postpones Two Softball Games; Powers Lose To Phones

LEGION, BANKS WILL OPEN N. L. SEASON TODAY

Foresters Meet K. C. in Frat Loop; Coated vs. Fox River in A. L.

TWO softball league games went into the postponed list last night because of wet grounds. The third, the American league opener, going to the Telephone company with the Power company the loser. The score was 12 and 9.

In the National league Co. D., and the Atlas Mill called quits because of the weather and will play at a later date. The Fraternal league teams scheduled to play the opener did likewise.

After getting away to a three run lead in the first half the second the Powers saw the Phones come back and score two markers in their half the frame. Two hits and an error gave the Powers another advantage in the fourth inning and three walks in the fifth gave them a 6 and 2 margin.

Phone company bats clicked a merry tune in the last half the fifth and before the firing died down the score was tied at 6 all. Klopstein got a hit and scored. H. Robbins walked and tallied and Hollinbeck and Blesman also connected and galloped home with runs.

Having tied the score the Phones went out to win the game and scored six runs. Blesman was safe on an error and scored. Lake was safe on a fielders' choice and scored. W. Robbins was safe on an error and tallied. Meyers walked to later tally and Richmond hit and scored.

Aroused by the possibility of losing their first game, the Powers chased a couple pinch hitters into the game in the seventh. Weller batted for Kranzsch and hit but was mipped at second. Schaefer batted for Coated and was safe on the fielders' choice that killed Weller. Schaefer scored on Kroiss' hit. Skall grounded and Grieshaber hit to score Kroiss. Grieshaber then tallied on a hit by Verbrick.

Tonight's games will see the Legion and Bankers opening the National league race and the Foresters battling the Knights of Columbus for the first National league game. Coated and Fox River will show in the American league.

KIMBERLY TRACK SQUAD WINS DUAL

Easily Defeats Denmark High School; Score Is 74 and 16.

Kimberly—Coach Harper's red and white track team ran wild in a duel meet with Denmark held at Kimberly Tuesday afternoon and copped piling up 74 points to the visitors' 16. Kimberly even first place in every event but the mile. In the 220 dash and in the pole vault Kimberly took all three places.

100 yard dash—Grise, first. Kohlen, second. Kimberly; Johnson, Denmark, third. Time 11.5 seconds.

220 yard dash—Grise, first. Alberts, second. Kohlen, third; all of Kimberly. Time 25.3 seconds.

440 yard dash—Alberts, Kimberly, first. Gossens, Kimberly, second. Tauber, Denmark, third. Time 59 seconds.

880 yard dash—Gossens, Kimberly, first; Deede, Denmark, second; Elmer, Denmark, third. Time 2 minutes 45 sec.

1 mile—Tauber, Denmark, first; Williams, Kimberly, second; Deede, Denmark, third. Time 6 minutes 51 seconds.

Shot put—Van Susteren, Kimberly, first; Williams, Kimberly, second; Rasmussen, Denmark, third. Distance—37 ft. 7 inches.

Discus—Williams, Kimberly, first; Weyenberg, Kimberly, second; Baugard, Denmark, third. Distance 104 ft. 7 inches.

High jump—Van Dyke and Van Susteren, Kimberly, tied for first. Height 4 feet, 11 inches.

Broad jump—Weyenberg, Kimberly, first; Kohlen, Kimberly, second; Ens Denmark, third. Distance—17 ft. 11 1/2 inches.

Pole vault—Van Susteren, Patrick, Van Dyke, all of Kimberly, tied for first. Height—8 feet, 4 inches.

Olympics Call Her Back

She can run again, but can she sprint with the speed that carried her to the international fame in the 1928 Olympics? The answer to that question is what Betty Robinson, above, is seeking. Betty suffered fractures of the left leg and arm in a plane crash last summer and doctors said that if she survived, which was doubtful then, she never would sprint again. But Betty even then had her plans made for the 1932 Olympics. And here she is drilling in the gym to remove muscle stiffness caused by inactivity. She is a Northwestern University co-ed.

National League Race Surprise In Majors; Macks Trail In A. L.

BY JOHN B. FOSTER

Copyright 1932

NEW YORK (CPA)—With May day a thing of the past, the two major league circuits now will put their backs to the wheel in earnest and buckle down more seriously than before to the business of shooting for the baseball pennants. The race in the National league has developed into something vastly different from last year, while in the American the rejuvenated power of the New York Yankees and the showing of the Washington Senators may foretell a change in the winner for the 1932 season.

At the end of April, 1931, Chicago was tied for the lead of the National league with St. Louis, each having a percentage of .727. New York was an undisputed third with .682 and Boston fourth with .643. Philadelphia sixth with .417, Brooklyn seventh with .351 and Cincinnati last, exactly .000. Cincinnati had won one game and lost nine.

The main difference in the league this year is that Boston has stepped into the shoes of St. Louis, taking the lead over Chicago. Another difference in the leaders this year is that the Cubs have not been playing with their full strength. They have not been given a great deal of credit for what they may do in 1932 but the players appear now exactly as they did early in March.

TWO TRACK MEETS HERE THIS WEEKEND

Orange in Triangular Contest; Vikes Compete Against Ripon

A two-day track and field program is scheduled for George A. Whiting athletic field at Lawrence college this weekend.

Friday afternoon Appleton high school will play host to Manitowish and East Green Bay high schools in a triangular meet. The lake shore team is considered fairly strong this year, but East is conceded to have the better of the two invading squads.

Appleton hopes for a good season after the win over Oshkosh and Neenah last weekend, the Orange winning by five points over Oshkosh. The meet was not decided until the high jump returns had been scored. Appleton won five first places during the afternoon.

On Saturday afternoon the Lawrence college team will play host to Ripon college track squad in a dual meet and indications are the Vikes are due for another healthy trimming. The Lawrence squad shows less this year than in any season in the last seven years.

Two other sports events between Lawrence and Ripon are scheduled for Saturday. The Vike tennis team which beat Carroll last week will clash with Ripon netters at 1:30 on the campus courts. At 9:30 in the morning the Ripon and Lawrence golf teams will meet on Butte des Morts golf club fairways.

Four St. Louis gymnasts were chosen for Olympic tryouts following a meet in competition with other contestants from the region.

DODGERS BATS BURST FORTH; GIANTS LOSE

"Dizzy" Dean Comes Through With 9 and 0 Win for Cards

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

THE Brooklyn Dodgers, who have had neither pitching nor hitting to speak of since they completed their course in calisthenics this spring, at last show symptoms of recovering their batting eyes.

The latent power in the bats of the Flatbush Fusiliers burst forth all of a sudden yesterday against the Giants. Trailing by five runs going into the ninth, they fell on three of McGraw's curvers for eight runs to win, 11 to 7, and leave the Giants in complete possession of the National league cellar.

The Boston Braves and Chicago Cubs maintained their fight for first place in the senior league, the Braves clinging to their one-game advantage by beating the Phillies, 9 to 4, while the Cubs were coming from behind to trim the Pirates, 8 to 6. Barbee, recruit Pittsburgh outfielder, hit a home run.

"Dizzy" Dean, the Cardinals' much publicized rookie, finally came through with a shut-out victory over the Cincinnati Reds, 9 to 0. In winning his last three games, Halahan Johnson, Dean has granted the opposition just two runs.

Although three Washington pitchers issued 16 passes, only two shy of the major league record, the Senators staggered through to a 5 to 4 win over the Yankees. It was the leaders' third straight over the Yanks and their sixth win in a row.

Cleveland's winning streak was snapped at nine straight when the St. Louis Browns outslugged the Indians, 12 to 8.

George Earnshaw was in rare form, yielding only four hits as the Athletics won another from the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 1. The A's pecked away at Danny MacFayden for three runs in the first eight innings and then fell on Pete Donohue for three more in the ninth. Al Simmons knocked in three runs with a home run and a single.

Detroit and Chicago were rained out.

They were then the best team on the Pacific coast and today they appear as the strongest team in the National league, although second to Boston in the standings.

Cards Talk Tumble
The big tumble in the National league "house" has been made by St. Louis which is hard put to win games without substantial pitching all the time, and without the attacking force it had a year ago. They may get better. Boston has been playing better than last year, foraging as usual off the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The real gainer in the National league is Cincinnati which has been plugging along at a fifty-fifty pace, far different from the showing of 1931. They have been the dangerous irritant in the National league, as it seemed they would be from the moment they were settled down to spring training in Florida. The other teams are about as they were, not so radically different that much criticism is to be made of them, not much praise heaped upon them. The Giants have been disappointing and there are reasons for it.

In the American league at the end of April, 1931, Cleveland was in the lead with a percentage of .692. Washington was second with .615. Detroit third with .581, Boston fourth with .500, Philadelphia sixth with .455. Boston seventh and St. Louis eighth.

There has been a big change this year, not so great in figures and in actual position as in portent for the future. The New York team has pushed its way to second place and is in a nip-and-tuck race with the Athletics for first place by virtue of a May day victory over the Yankees. The standings of the Yankees were something of a surprise to New York and to those who had studied the team, admiring its manner of playing ball and its players, but not quite expecting what has actually happened. Those who estimate baseball values with some accuracy would have been quite satisfied with seeing New York in third place with the opportunity to break into the lead at some future date.

Now they are engaged in a crucial struggle with Washington to decide the lead. If they should take it, they are better than their most sanguine well wishers thought they could be. Now that they may not win the pennant in time, but to be a steady battler for first place requires a lot of unobtrusive power.

Jack Repeat
There is not such an extraordinary lot to fuss about in the tumble of the Philadelphia Athletics. They did the same thing last year. A great deal of bunk and flax is written about this team by those who understand its power to come back. It is in jeopardy, but quite sure that it has been lost. Good baseball teams sometimes do not get fully underway until June and then they are practically irresistible.

Cleveland is not in first place this year and possibly the owners of the club feel better that their team is not carrying the target just yet.

No one can appreciate as yet what all of the recent changes have done for the western half of the American league. That part of the circuit has been virtually made over and it is within the possibilities that the race may become so tight by mid August that every fan on the circuit will be speculating from St. Louis to Boston.

WYKOFF PREPARES FOR OLYMPIC GAMES

Los Angeles (AP)—Frank Wykoff, "world's fastest human," is going to cease participating in all track events except the 100-yard and 100-meter events, he announced today.

The sprint star, co-captain of the University of Southern California's track team, previously had run the 220.

Wykoff said he decided to concentrate on the shorter distances so that he will be in the best of condition for those events for the Olympics games this summer.

WHITNEY HORSE MAY BE WINNER OF 'TUCKY DERBY'

Earl Sande, Veteran Jockey, Will Seek Record With Overtime

LOUISVILLE, KY. (AP)—A Whitney horse may win the Kentucky derby after all, in the opinion of scores of railbirds who thronged Churchill Downs to watch the first gaitings by Stephen-Fetchitt and Overtime.

Mrs. John Hay Whitney, eligibles for Saturday's $50,000 classic.

Withdrawal of C. V. Whitney's crack filly Top Flight and Mrs. Payne Whitney's Curacao from the derby left Mrs. John Hay Whitney the only member of that prominent turf family to have representation in the historic race.

Stephen-Fetchitt will be ridden in the derby by the veteran jockey, L. Erner. Earl Sande himself, who has had mounts on three derby winners, will ride Overtime in his attempt to make his recent turf comeback decisive.

Can Set Record
Should Sande win on Overtime, he would be the first jockey in history to ride four derby winners. He and Isaac Murphy now share the record at three each. Sande has won on Zev, Flying Ebony and Gallant Fox.

Mrs. L. G. Kaufman's Tick On is the pre-derby favorite and the leading eastern candidate. Col. E. R. Bradley's entry of Brother Joe and Burgo King bear the hopes of the west. Thomas M. Cassidy's Uni-verse, winner of the Wood Memorial, is another highly favored eastern candidate along with the Whitney pair.

Knebelkamp and Morris' Adobe Post became a certain starter when he recorded a surprise victory over ten other western derby nominees in the preparation race at the Downs yesterday. The late Joseph Leiter's Prince Hotspur was second and J. W. Parrish's Cold Check third.

There is slight chance for a filly starting in this year's derby now that Top Flight is definitely out. Mr. Parrish has a filly eligible, Depression, which is entered in a race at the Downs today. Even should Depression win today, Mr. Parrish said she will not start unless Cold Check breaks down in the next three days.

No other filly in the list of nominations is considered of derby caliber.

Sweeping Light Withdrawn
Disappointment was expressed in local racing circles when Mrs. Graham Fair Vanderbilt decided not to send Sweeping Light to the derby. There was a sentimental attachment to Sweeping Light hereabouts because he developed from a weakling into a winning juvenile last year after recovering from blood poisoning. Mrs. Vanderbilt, however, did not believe he would be a contender in the derby.

Withdrawals of Sweeping Light and Curacao left Mrs. John Hay Whitney and Mrs. L. G. Kaufman the only women owners contesting for the $50,000 stake, won last year by Mrs. Payne Whitney with Twenty Grand.

MINNEAPOLIS TAKES SECOND PLACE IN A. A.

Milwaukee Hammers Out 13 and 4 Victory Over Louisville Kerns

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—A bunch of old timers and a few youngsters in his first year as manager of Minneapolis' American Association entrant, Donie Bush has whipped together a team that is beginning to look like a contender.

Among the names familiar in major league and association baseball are Eddie Sicking, Babe Gangel, Harry Rice, Joe Hauser and Wes Griffin, not to mention pitchers Jess Petty, Rubie Benton, Jimmy Brill, Bert and Ross Bill Ryan, and with Joe Mowry, Ernie Smith, Pea Ridge Day and Phil Henslek, they have played enough good baseball to find themselves in second place today.

The Millers yesterday won their third straight from Toledo, 8 to 4. Petty holding the Mud Hens to seven hits. The Miller attack produced only eight hits off Lee and Rabb, but they were well bunched, especially in the seventh, when five runs were manufactured. Art Rubie, one of the younger boys, got a home run with one on, as the feature of the winning assault.

Indians Drop To Third
Kansas City regained first place and dropped Indianapolis to third by defeating the Indians, 2 to 1, in a pitching battle between Lou Fette and Bill Burwell. Fette was the big shot of the day, his two doubles figuring in the scoring of both runs. The defeat left Indianapolis three percentage points behind Minneapolis.

Columbus got hitting and pitching to win its third straight over St. Paul. Hill gave the Saints only five hits, bunched in the first and third innings, while Harvin, a newcomer, and Jim Elliott, yielded 14. Swanson did the long hitting for the Red Birds, banging out a home run and two doubles, scoring one run and driving in three. Iv Jeffries got a homer for the Saints.

Louisville's floundering Colonels took their fifth straight beating and their twelfth in 14 starts, as Milwaukee hammered out a 13 to 4 victory. Ted Gullie, Jack Tavorer and Al Boad got three hits each for the Brewers, the former's efforts driving in four runs. Clyde Hatter, Bub Johnson, Johnny Mareum and Joe DeBerry were batted for 13 hits, while Nelson gave Louisville half that number.

COLLEGE BOXERS FIGHT IN CHICAGO

Chicago (AP)—Western conference universities, Notre Dame and Marquette have entered boxers in an intercollegiate tournament at the Chicago Stadium Friday and Saturday nights. The tournament is sponsored by the American Legion.

The Badgers hope to make a better showing in the Olympic trials than they would be possible in the Toughkopsie race. Coach Mike Murphy has a boatload of inexperienced men and he regards the Badgers' chances of coping the Olympic 2,000 meter race as better than of winning the long four-mile pull down the Hudson. He has been concentrating on speed rather than power during the spring training.

U. W. CREW WON'T GO TO 'KEEPSIE RACE

Badger Athletic Council Approves Entrances in Olympic Trials

MADISON (AP)—The University of Wisconsin crew today was definitely out of the Toughkopsie regatta as a result of action taken by the new athletic board at its first meeting.

The board approved a proposal to send the varsity eight to Worcester, Mass., in July to compete in the Olympic trials rather than in the Toughkopsie classic. The crew's participation depends, however, on the ability of students and alumni to raise money for the trip east.

A joint campaign among students and alumni to gather funds will be undertaken if plans now under consideration by the alumni association are carried out. The expenses of the crew will reach $25,000, it is estimated.

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER Associated Press Financial Editor

New York (P)—A moderate quickening of selling early in today's session of the stock market was followed by some abatement of pressure after midday.

On the whole, however, the financial markets still reflected uncertainty and discouragement. A further slight gain in steel production failed to impart appreciable encouragement. Weakness of U. S. government bonds, and some further selling of the American dollar abroad, again reflected uneasiness over the federal government's difficulties in balancing its budget.

Selling of stock was somewhat more general than in the previous session, but was again largely concentrated in a few issues, and appeared to reflect further special liquidation. Issues losing 2 to 3 points at the worst included American Telephone, Allied Chemical, Coca Cola, Hershey, American Tobacco, etc.

On the other hand, there was a moderate recovery in some of the preferred issues, and a number of common stocks showed a slight recovery from fractions to a point. U. S. Steel sold off 12 to 25, then recovered a minor fraction. Oil still held up well, as did a number of other miscellaneous issues, including General Motors, North American, etc.

Some of the most active trading was in the petroleum stocks, showing a drop of 10 to 20 points in daily average crude production, and a reduction of 82,000 barrels in gasoline stocks on hand, as well as hopes of important results from the international conference looking to an end of cut-throat price cutting in foreign markets, and rumors of progress in the Standard Oil, N. J.—Pan American deal. Some quarters regarded the Sharkey control bill in California as adverse development, however.

FOREIGN MARKETS AT A GLANCE

London—Trading was fairly cheerful on the stock exchange and further gains were registered in mining, gilt edged and oil shares while Argentine rails hardened on satisfactory traffic reports. The shares benefited by the restriction scheme. The close was steady. Sterling lost part of its early improvement when dollars were bought.

Paris—Foreign issues were strong following London, particularly South African issues and oil shares. French stocks were irregular due to the unclear political situation and uncertainty over exchange rates. The closing was better but irregular.

Berlin—Prices on the bourse were firm throughout and the closing was sustained.

PACKING SHARES FLOOD STOCK MART

Chicago (P)—Packing shares were in large supply on the Chicago stock exchange today, and had a bearing effect on the market as a whole.

Swift and Company and Swift International went to new bottom price records for the year. Both sold down 25 points. Edison recorded more than 15. Insull debentures established a new low. Libby did likewise. Trading was the most active in several weeks.

New York (P)—The "Iron age" composite price for pig iron declined to $14.23 a gross ton from $14.35 which was the average throughout April. The composite price for steel scrap declined to $7.62, a ton net level for all time, the finished steel composite is unchanged at 2.95 cents a pound.

A committee has been formed to represent the holders of the convertible 6 per cent debentures. Initial series due Mar. 1, 1935, and series "B" due May 1, 1935, of the Appalachian Gas Corporation, which was recently placed in receivership. John C. Adams of Baltimore, Waters and company, is chairman of the committee.

Preliminary estimates indicate first quarter net earnings of the Columbian Carbon Company in excess of 50 cents a share, for the first quarter of 1931 the company reported net income equal to $1.04 a share.

The Roan Antelope Copper Corp. mill treated 34,000 short tons of ore in April, averaging 3.75 per cent copper, according to cable advices to C. D. Barney and Co. from Rhodesia, South Africa. Smelter production during the month was 2,113 long tons of blister, assaying 99.37 per cent copper. The company is now operating at 20 per cent of capacity.

Electric Power output for the week ended Apr. 30 amounted to 1,454,505,000 kilowatt hours, being lower than in the previous week and 11.5 per cent from the same week last year. In the previous week, output recorded a drop of 2.3 per cent as compared with last year.

LIMITED SUPPLIES FAIL TO LIFT HOGS

Cattle Buyers Find Wide Assortment of Stock; Volume Ample

Chicago (P)—Again lacking support, the hog market drifted lower at the outset as a vain attempt was made to lift prices out of the rut into which they have fallen. Even the limited supplies here and throughout the leading markets failed to stimulate buyers. Packers, who had 50,000 direct to start their slaughter operations, eyed the fresh meat demand and were loath to make an effort to do more than replace the small quantity of pork that was moving into consumer channels.

Delay in the arrival of trains held up the development of the market later than usual and no sales were made within the first half-hour of the session, a period which was confined largely to inspection of offerings.

Bids centered on medium weight butchers, the choice 220 to 240 lbs. kinds being sought at $3.65 to $3.75, though choice lights were tenaciously held at $3.50.

Cattle buyers found a wide assortment of bovine stock to make selections from today, and the supply was lighter than a week ago and a range of $2.50 to $3.00 was ample for trade on a medium market run of 2,000 calves brought buyers into the market slowly. No marked changes were noted in initial quotations.

All of the 10,000 sheep arriving here today were found in the selling commission men looked to packers for the principal outlet, but they could do little more than open small operators and shippers at the opening. Firm prices were quoted on both fed lambs and springers.

CITY AND PAPER FIRM TO SHARE COST OF PAVING

Council Votes in Favor of Assuming Portion of Expense

Kaukauna—Aldermen authorized paving of a 296-yard extension to the road passing the Thilmany Pulp and Paper Co., plant, at a meeting Tuesday evening in the council rooms. Thilmany officials had petitioned the city to do the work, as they had already completed 550 yards of paving on this road. The cost will be borne jointly by the city and the company, the entire cost of the project being approximately $1,379.

The city will pay for the paving while the Thilmany officials will be responsible for grading and setting forms. An estimate of the cost of the city placed the amount at nearly $700. In the discussion of the petition, Alderman G. L. Smith pointed out that inasmuch as the company had completed more than half of the paving at their expense, the city should complete the work. Alderman Smith also stated that a number of men would be placed to work, relieving the city of some of its unemployed.

In the vote to authorize the paving extension Aldermen E. Brewster, G. L. Smith, W. Carnot, W. Gillen, W. Cooper, J. Lummerding, F. Gertz, B. Roberts were in favor of the extension; Aldermen O. Ludtke and Ben Bell being opposed.

An appropriation of $50 was granted to the Kaukauna Post No. 41 American legion to assist in financing a Memorial Day program here. Gives Report

Alderman Bert Roberts presented a report of the meeting of the board of public works, which was held April 25. Members of the board elected Alderman Roberts president, and authorized the completion of paving on Crooks-ave. The contract for the work was awarded to Ray McCarty, and the paving will be placed at a cost of $1.75 per lineal foot, with 35 cents per foot allowed for excavation. This work will be started as soon as weather permits, and local labor will be used exclusively.

Included in the report was the completion of the Tenth-st sewer and water works project. This work also will be started in the near future. The city clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for three tank cars of road oil, to be used in repairing city streets.

An explanation of the method followed in the appointment of an officer to fill the vacancy caused by promotion of Harold Emerson, night patrolman, to motorcycle officer, was requested by Alderman William Carnot. Oscar Janus was appointed to fill the vacancy, starting his duties May 1. R. H. McCarty, chief of police, told the council that the fire and police commission made the appointment after receiving 38 applications. He said that criticism had been voiced because the newly appointed officer had been living in Little Chute for about six months.

Chief McCarty stated that the new officer had applied for a position on the force several years ago. He was selected by the commission as

LEGION WILL STAGE JULY FOURTH PICNIC

Kaukauna—Kaukauna Post No. 41 American legion completed plans for a July 4 celebration at a meeting in their clubrooms on Oak-st Tuesday evening. Louis Wilpolt and Albert Klammer were appointed joint chairmen of the event, which will be staged here on July 3 and 4. A report on the Memorial day observance program was given by Louis Wilpolt, who is chairman of the committee handling the arrangements. Several of the legionnaires are planning to attend a joint meeting of the Outagamie-co and the Oconto-co councils, the meeting to be held in Gillett next Tuesday evening.

CUT SALARIES

Kaukauna—The Vocational school board decreased teacher salaries 5 per cent at a meeting held at the school Tuesday evening. The cut affects 10 teachers.

The most suitable candidate in the group of applications.

Many Applicants

That most of the criticism arises because of the number of applications, was pointed out by Chief McCarty, who said that within several weeks the new officer will prove a valuable addition to the present force.

Following a discussion of a number of cases on the poor list, the poor committee was instructed to conduct an investigation to determine the feasibility of purchasing the most essential commodities used in wholesale lots. This method of purchasing is being used by all of the larger cities, it was pointed out, and is also being worked successfully in several nearby cities. The poor committee will make its report at the next meeting of the council on May 17.

L. C. Wolf, city clerk, read a notice of the approaching convention of the Wisconsin Municipal Utilities association, which will be held in the council rooms here on May 25 and 26. Herbert F. Weckwerth, superintendent of the Kaukauna utility, is preparing the program for the two day event.

Several members of the park board appeared before the council asking for an appropriation to finance repair of tennis courts in La Follette park. The courts would be resurfaced with asphalt, as the stone topping has proved unfit for use. M. Gerhart, of the park board, said the new topping for the La Follette courts would cost approximately $235.

REPAIRS NEEDED

Alderman E. Brewster told the members of the board that several other courts in the city also needed repairs and that all these should be included in the repair program. He also advocated a more even distribution of the playground equipment, stating that all children in the city should have a chance to use the equipment. Park board members are planning to place some of the equipment in places that are more frequented by the children.

Mayor B. W. Fargo asked the park board to investigate the condition of the other tennis courts and playgrounds about the city and submit a report at the next council meeting. That the number of tennis players wishing to use the courts could not be accommodated at the LaFollette courts was pointed out by Mayor Fargo, and because of this all available courts should be repaired.

Reports of the chief of police and the poor commissioner were approved. The council then adjourned, and will hold its next meeting Tuesday evening, May 17.

Don't

let a few cents a day stand between you and a FULLY AUTOMATIC Kelvinator

THERE actually isn't much difference between the price of a fully automatic Kelvinator, the finest in electric refrigeration, and an ordinary electric refrigerator. Over a period of time, it amounts to only a few cents a day.

But, think of the difference between the two when it comes to economical operation, performance, satisfaction, long-lived dependability, and the completeness of refrigeration service. Consider these advantages—features you cannot get except in a Kelvinator. There is 4-Zone Cold—four separate, distinct temperatures—each serving a different purpose—each necessary for complete refrigeration—and each fully automatic. There are no dials to set. Nothing to remember or forget. No danger of freezing the contents of the food compartment. In addition to fully automatic 4-Zone Cold, the most important feature in an electric refrigerator, consider the Frost Chest, World's Fastest Freezing Speed, the Kold-Keeper and the Kelvin Crisper, all of which can be had on either the Standard or Deluxe Models.

You buy an electric refrigerator not for one or two years' use, but for ten, or fifteen, or even more. And it is downright extravagance not to buy the best—especially when you can get a Kelvinator for only a few cents a day more.

Your own good judgment will tell you this is sound reasoning so why not come in to-day and pick out your Kelvinator and pay for it on the ReDisCo Monthly Budget Plan, the easy, convenient way?
